NOTE: This is a 16-week course.

COVID 19 Notice:

McLennan Community College is committed to providing you with every resource you need to reach your academic goals including your safety. ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE I

ENVR 1101.03

Course Description:

This laboratory-based course accompanies ENVR 1301, Environmental Science (lecture). Activities will cover methods used to collect and analyze environmental data. Semester Hours 1 (3 lab)

Prerequisites and/or Corequisites:

Credit for/concurrent enrollment in ENVR 1301.

Course Notes and Instructor Recommendations:

Every student in this course needs to regularly check Brightspace for new assignments, announcements, and/or messages. Every student needs to be able to access YouTube videos, DOCX, and PDF files without a problem. This course requires that students conduct independent labs and may require the use of a camera or other technology. Because of this, students must also be able to view videos and have a reliable Internet connection to succeed. A student must have access to reliable transportation, with proper insurance, tags, etc... when applicable, to participate in field trips. All students must complete the McLennan Community College waivers online before being cleared to participate in any off-campus lab activities. Failure to complete the liability form online, provided via a link on Brightspace, may result in a student being withdrawn from the course at the same scheduled time when Lab Three is due.

INSTRUCTOR NOTE:**

Do not submit *.pages, *.numbers, or *.key files. If you submit Apple iWorks files and your work cannot be opened by the instructor, you will receive a zero for the assignment. HEIC photos are also not accepted – these typically are generated by phones using the “live” mode.

Do not submit *.odp, *.odt, or *.ods files. These are OpenOffice files and, when opened in Microsoft Office, will lose formatting and document properties. If you submit OpenOffice files and your document loses formatting when opened, you will lose any points associated with the formatting of the document for the assignment.

Methods of Teaching and Learning:

Virtual tours, lab exercises, lectures, quizzes, essays, and/or other alternative means.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

1. Apply the scientific method to environmental investigation.
2. Measure and observe aspects of the environment (e.g., air, water, soil) through sampling and sample analysis.
3. Develop an assessment plan for an environmental case study.
4. Demonstrate the collection, analysis, and reporting of data.

Other specific Student Learning Outcomes and Core Objectives include:

- A. Critical thinking assignments that focus on scientific knowledge related to problems involving energy and the environment;
- B. Assessing communication skills through quizzes and assignments that are largely written, while lectures gravitate toward visual components, and class discussions guarantee students' oral interactions when introducing the physical sciences at a collegiate level;
- C. Empirical/quantitative assessments through lectures that allow students to see examples of specific case studies, research, and current events that pertain to data collection, analysis, and the scientific method as they pertain to energy problems and solutions; among other environmental topics like sustainability and resource management.

Course Outline or Schedule:

The official class schedule is posted and updated on Brightspace, as adjustments become needed. All lab assignments will be due by 11:55 pm on the due date and submitted via Brightspace.

Course Grading Information:

Each lab represents an equal portion of the final grade. There is no final exam in ENVR 1101.

Grades are kept here Brightspace, under the Grades tool. The grade scale used in the course is: A=90-100, B=80-89.9, C=70-79.9, D=60-69.9, and F=59.9 and below.

Labs will typically require the submission of a lab writeup to assess mastery of the content. There are some occasions when a student may be required to travel locally to conduct his/her lab experiments. The locations should not be difficult to find. In the event the student cannot identify a location, he or she must inform the instructor of the dilemma five days prior to the assignment's due date. Also, students must complete online waiver and liability form, as discussed in Lab One, before receiving credit for any labs past Lab Two. In the event a student defaults on submitting and completing his/her waivers by the end of Lab Two, he/she will likely be dropped for non-participation during the time schedule for completing Lab Three.

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:

A student's attendance is measured by the class attendance, completion and submission of the weekly lecture assignment in Brightspace. For each lab section, an assignment will be due on specified night at 11:55pm (not 11:56pm). However, I do provide students with an opportunity to makeup one lab grade, but only during one week towards the end of the course. The Makeup Lab will be deployed in its own folder, similarly to the other course work. The Makeup Lab replaces a student's lowest quiz grade and is completely optional. The Makeup Lab will be a completely new, separate, and optional lab assignment. The Makeup Lab often represents the sole-guaranteed opportunity for extra-credit in the course.

MCC Attendance Policy:

Regular and punctual attendance is expected of all students, and the instructor will maintain a complete record of attendance for the entire length of each course, including online and hybrid courses. Students will be counted absent from class meetings missed, beginning with the first official day of classes. Students, whether present or absent, are responsible for all material presented or assigned for a course and will be held accountable for such materials in the determination of course grades.

this course, a student is marked absent when she/he fails to show up to the weekly lab or does not submit their lab assignment. Absence from 25 percent of scheduled lecture and/or laboratory meetings will be taken as evidence that a student does not intend to complete the course, and the student will be withdrawn from the course with a grade of W. The instructor may reinstate the student if satisfied that the student will resume regular attendance and will complete the course. If the student's 25 percent absences are reached after the official drop date, the instructor may assign a W, if the student is passing and requests to be withdrawn. However, if a student who is not passing reaches the 25 percent point after the official drop date, the student will receive an F. In extenuating circumstances, the instructor may assign a W to a student who is not passing. Each absence will count toward attendance requirements in each course. Students will be permitted to make up class work and assignments missed due to absences caused by (1) authorized participation in official College functions, (2) personal illness, (3) an illness or a death in the immediate family or (4) the observance of a religious holy day. Also, the instructor has the prerogative of determining whether a student may make up work missed due to absences for other reasons. It is the student's responsibility to inform the instructor of the reason for an absence and to do so in a timely fashion. McLennan Community College shall excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities including examinations for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. Students are required to file a written request with each instructor for an excused absence. A student whose absence is excused for this observance may not be penalized for that absence and shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment from which the student is excused within a reasonable time after the absence.

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE I

Any student who does not drop him/herself before October 22, and exceeds four absences, will stay enrolled in the course and receive the grade she/he earns.

Click on the link above for the college policies on attendance and absences. Your instructor may have guidelines specific to this course.

COVID-19 Specific Guidelines: Students are requested to maintain social distance and wear masks when attending lab. Please keep in mind this is to protect yourself and others, and also shows care and respect for others who may be at higher risk or have a different comfort level than yourself. We will be taking tours at locations around Waco and want our hosts to invite us back – please maintain an extra level of caution during labs in order to make everyone, especially our hosts, feel safe.

A student shall not come to the classroom if any of these situations occur: 1) she/he exhibits any symptoms of COVID-19; 2) she/he has come in contact with a COVID-positive person within the last 14 days; 3) she/he tests positive for the virus; or 4) other specific circumstances outlined in the MCC COVID Response Plan. If a student begins to show symptoms during class, she/he will need to leave the classroom. All students need to be aware that the class could be quarantined if one person comes to the room who has the virus. Let us work together to reduce the spread of COVID-19.

If any of these circumstances arise, the student will inform the instructor that they need to complete their classwork online in addition to self-reporting to MCC utilizing the following website: https://mclennan.col.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_9FiKfG5D85livQN

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE I

Students are expected to maintain classroom decorum that includes respect for other students and the instructor, prompt and regular attendance, and an attitude that seeks to take full advantage of the educational opportunity. Each student is required to actively participate in each activity. Minimal physical activity is required for some of these labs. If you have any physical issues that prevent your participation, you must notify the instructor as soon as possible, via Instant Message on Brightspace, so an alternative strategy can be determined. If you do not notify the instructor about your physical issues before an incident, you will be held responsible for the incompleteness of the lab.

Any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty such as cheating, plagiarism, or collusion on any problem on an assignment, quiz, test, (etc.) will receive zero for the activity in which the offense occurred and will be reported to the office of Student Development. Plagiarism may include the use of ideas, research, or sentence structure without giving proper credit to the creator.

I POSSESS ZERO TOLERANCE FOR CHEATING, COLLUSION, AND/OR PLAGIARISM.

Often, in particular on short-answer or essay labs, I do not mind when students seek outside, scholastic material to locate additional information on various topics. However, be sure that you realize that you cannot simply copy something and pass it off as your answer – this is considered plagiarism. If a student is unsure as to what constitutes cheating/plagiarism, he/she needs to ask for clarification before submitting an assignment. When applicable, it is a student's obligation to verify the authenticity of his/her work through proper citations. Unless expressly stated otherwise in the assignment instructions, all assignments are to be completed independently and should reflect one's own work. Working with other students or other individuals on an assignment without instructor permission is considered collusion and cheating.

INSTRUCTOR NOTE:**

Deviation from any of the aforementioned course policies, will result in the following penalties:

1st Offense: Written warning from the instructor, a zero grade issued for the activity in which the offense occurred, and a report made to Student Discipline

2nd Offense: Report made to Student Discipline and will receive a failing grade in the course.

On occasion, two students in this course may share a common bond (married, friends, siblings, etc...) and if you fit into that category, you must notify me within the first week of class. This is because students with a common bond occasionally experience issues that should be addressed before completing much of the course. We can talk about these various issues, once they arise. Failure to notify the instructor about a common bond may result in strict consequences, as determined by the instructor.
