ENGL 1301.083

Course Description:

Focuses on developing the core skills of reading, critical thinking, writing, and researching. Emphasizes writing processes and outcomes and includes attention to standard language conventions.

Prerequisites and/or Corequisites:

TSI complete in Reading and Writing or the equivalent.

Course Notes and Instructor Recommendations:

Google Apps/Mail: Please familiarize yourself with this software, since this class will use it for delivering coursework and maintaining an updated course syllabi and calendar. Instructional courses about Google Docs/Drive/Classroom are available through Google and YouTube, but you should also contact Prof. Swanson for questions about use and the Information Systems office (299-8077 or www.mclennan.edu/tech-support/) for help.

Brightspace Grades: While I do use Brightspace's gradebook, it can be behind or calculate the overall grades incorrectly. Therefore, I am always available to answer questions about grades via e-mail. You just have to be sure to e-mail my MCC account from your MCC account to ensure the greatest account security.

Email: I use my MCC and Google email accounts as my primary means of contacting students. Students are responsible for 1) regularly checking their messages in this account (at least once per day), 2) ensuring that their inbox is not full so that they can receive messages, and 3) ensuring that they remember their username and password. Students should only use their MCC email accounts when sending me email.

Google Classroom: We will use Google Classroom for some course assignments and for providing access to course materials. To access, go to classroom.google.com, just make sure that you are logged out of personal Gmail(s) and logged into your MCC student email and use this link:

<https://classroom.google.com/c/NTM2NjgyNjY1OTgz?cjc=2pnrzzo>

In the "Stream", you will find course announcements and general questions/discussions. In the "Classwork" section, I will put resources and essay assignments as I add them.

Methods of Teaching and Learning:

Includes lectures, class discussion, in-class/out-of-class viewing & reading assignments, group work, regular discussions, quizzes, and multiple essay projects.

For this course, we will be using Brightspace, Google Drive/Docs, and Classroom extensively.

In addition to the Stream, where essay drafts will be written and turned in, you should also familiarize yourself with the "About" section, which is where I put a lot of the resources and links for the course. I try to duplicate these in Brightspace. If something is missing, email me asap so I can correct/add them.

Important Teaching and Learning Definitions:

"In-class": The term "in-class" refers to time spent engaging with Brightspace or Google Classroom in a manner similar to face-to-face courses: reading lectures, completing quizzes, or watching course videos.

"Out-of-class": The term "out-of-class" refers to time spent engaging with reading, homework, or writing and thinking similar to face-to-face courses' homework: reading, watching resource videos, doing research, writing and revising drafts.

Working Ahead:

In general, I've structured the course for students to complete each "unit" of work in conjunction with their classmates. Therefore, the course includes assignments (particularly course discussions on Google Classroom and Essay Peer Reviews) that cannot be completed before the class progresses to that point in the course.

However, because I know that students often like to or need to work ahead, I've made all of the Units, Unit Overviews, and writing assignments accessible from the start of class. Students are welcome to read and work ahead as much as possible, but since this course focuses on skill development and skill development takes time, practice, and feedback, then the course deliberately expects students to slow down at points and reflect on and receive feedback on their writing, reading, and thinking skills from their instructor and peers.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of individual and collaborative writing processes.
2. Develop ideas with appropriate support and attribution.
3. Write in a style appropriate to audience and purpose.
4. Read, reflect, and respond critically to a variety of texts.
5. Use Edited American English in academic essays.

Course Competencies:

Courses in this category focus on developing ideas and expressing them clearly, considering the effect of the message, fostering understanding, and building the skills needed to communicate.

Courses involve the command of oral, aural, written, and visual literacy skills that enable people to exchange messages appropriate to the subject, occasion, and audience.

- Critical Thinking (CT) -- to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information
- Communications Skill (COM) -- to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication
- Teamwork (TW) -- to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal
- Personal Responsibility (PR) -- to include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making

Course Outline or Schedule:

ENGL 1301 Schedule for Fall 2022

Assignments are due before 11:59p on the last day listed for that Unit unless otherwise noted in the schedule.

You should note that Units overlap weekends to allow students to adjust their schedules. (Go from a Friday to the next Sunday, while the next Unit begins before the last Unit is "due")

(Any schedule changes will be given in class or changed in this document)

Course Grading Information:

Course Grading Scale

- A = 895-1000 pts.
- B = 795-894 pts.
- C = 695-794 pts.
- D = 595-694 pts.
- F = 594 and fewer pts.

Planned Assignments/Graded Content:

Please NOTE (READ ME): Make sure to read the general descriptions and grading policies and criteria below.

1. Essays, including rough and final drafts of each, ([10+20+40]+[20+30+100]+[50+50+200]=520 pts.): There will be 3 essay projects that will include graded pre-writing, revision, and drafting processes along with the final essay. They will range from 2 to 5 minimum pages and will each require students to display particular goals and growth in the process of writing.
2. In-Class Essays (50+50=100 pts.): We will have 2 “in-class”, timed essays
3. Discussions (130 pts.): Every week, on Google Classroom, I will post a question/reading/prompt for discussion. You will need to read/think/write appropriately and post a comment on that post of at least 100 words that addresses the exercise/discussion.
4. Quizzes (100 pts.): We will have quizzes in every unit over the readings, lectures, or work due for the class period. There will be more than 100 points offered. So, students should definitely try their best but not fixate on any particular question or quiz. Quizzes assess your reading and preparation for course material. If you struggle, contact me so we can talk about your reading and note-taking strategies.
5. Participation and Preparedness (100 pts.): Students will receive a grade reflecting how well they demonstrate their out-of-class preparedness and willingness to engage, constructively, to class discussions and projects.
6. Conference (50 pts.): Students must make and keep one out-of-class appointment with Professor Swanson before the deadline, either in person or digitally. The student is expected to arrive with materials and questions to discuss the project/paper at hand.

Quizzes:

- Each unit, we will have a set of quizzes that make up that Unit’s “Quiz” grade. Quizzes work to get our brains started on how prepared we are for beginning the material of a section of the course. They are NOT the end or completion of learning.
- Each quiz section will state what it covers before beginning. So, make sure that you’ve read, taken notes, and reviewed before beginning.
- While students ARE allowed to use books, notes, Google, etc during their quiz time, the time limits and variety of questions mean that students need to prepare for the quiz or they will not be as successful as they can be.

ENGL 1301.083

- The time limits for the quizzes are indicated in the instructions and the timer while taking the quiz, but if students go just 1-2 minutes over, please complete and submit. I generally allow a bit of grace for students to get used to quizzes, especially in the first few units.
- Only the top 10 units' quizzes will count towards the final grade, and each quiz usually has more points available to earn the base 10 pts/unit. So, I will add up all of sections for a unit and input that as your grade. The top 10 units' quizzes get counted towards the overall final grade. So, between extra points available (built-in extra-credit questions) and dropping the lowest few quizzes, students do NOT need to ace all of their quizzes to do well in the class.
- However, students who struggle consistently should probably reach out and email/chat with me about their reading, notes, and study habits so that we can figure out what's going on.

Electronic Submission Policies:

Almost all assignments will be required to be submitted electronically via Google Classroom. Since it is becoming increasingly important for workers to manage electronic information, students must follow the following guidelines when submitting electronically or risk a loss of 10% off of the top of the assignment's worth.

- Students should generally create their assignments in Google Docs and attach them to the appropriate assignment immediately. (Or, the option in Classroom exists to create the document in the assignment and have it saved automatically in the Classroom assignment. I recommend strongly that students use it.)
 - In the event that Google Docs is down for a prolonged period, you should e-mail your work as an attachment to me before the required time and date to avoid losing full credit.
- Assignments must be submitted as Google Docs. If you need help converting your document to a Google Doc, please contact me significantly before an assignment is due.
- When you name your file, make sure to include your first and last name, the essay/assignment that you are submitting (Essay 1, 2, 3, etc), and the draft/type of document that you're submitting (sketch, RD, final, peer review, Smarthinking, etc)..

NOTE: It can be hard to get used to a new electronic program. Please do not wait until the last minute to do things. Also, do not hesitate to ask for help (from me, IT (299-8077), and/or the Student Support Center/Writing Lab).

Grading Guidelines for All Assignments:

- No late work will be accepted. "Late," for this course is defined as after the deadline set for the assignment. The only exceptions will be made to students who contact me beforehand and receive a reply detailing the accommodations or students who meet the unforeseeable, excused absences as per MCC's attendance policy.
- All graded work must be typed and submitted electronically (in the case of essays), double-spaced, in standard font size, no larger than 12-pt Verdana, and follow all conventions of an MLA paper. There will be a sample paper written in standard MLA form available in "Samples" on Google Classroom.
- Assignments must ALWAYS meet the minimum length & source requirements and address the prompt/assignment (including Sketches and Rough Drafts, see more below).

“Sketches” & “Rough” Drafts

- Rough drafts and sketches must always meet the minimum expectations for the assignment in terms of formatting, topic, length, and source requirements.
- Think of sketch drafts as the first, real draft. So, as soon as you are done outlining, brainstorming, freewriting, or other idea-generating activities, you write your sketch, the first draft that completes all the parts of a collegiate essay (format, paragraphs, title, sources, length, etc)
- Think of rough drafts as close to what you have probably turned in as final drafts in previous courses. They should represent a significant mid-point in the writing process, not the beginning.
- Sketches and/or rough drafts that fail to meet minimum requirements in terms of topic, length, or source requirements can be immediately reduced by 5% for each requirement missed.
 - Those that fail to meet minimum length requirements by more than 25% will immediately receive an additional 20% reduction. (ie. A 3 page draft for a 4 page assignment will only be able to earn a maximum of 75% of the available points.)

Final Draft Grading

- When submitting final drafts, students must always include the files of their peer reviewed rough draft and Smarthinking review along with the final draft itself. Missing these will result in a 10% deduction per missing element.
- Final drafts that do not meet MLA formatting or citation guidelines in any way will lose an immediate 10% of the available points and, depending on the severity of the citation errors, could be turned over for consideration for academic dishonesty.
- Final draft submissions that clearly do not meet the assignment in respect of length, topic, or source requirement can immediately be reduced by 10% of the available points.
 - Those that fail to meet the minimum length required by more than 25% will see an additional deduction of 40% off of the possible grade. (ie. A 300 word draft for a 400 word assignment will only be able to earn a maximum of 50% of the available points.)
- In all cases, you do have the right and responsibility to ask for clarification about why and how the assignment does not meet the basic, minimum standards for the assignment.

VERY IMPORTANT- Required Revisions for Essays 1 and/or 2

Final drafts of Essays 1-2 that lose 30% or more of their total score will be immediately returned with a zero, pending revision. Students will have to meet with me, as per revision requirements, and revise their paper by the assigned revision time. Students who do not revise will earn an automatic zero.

Smarthinking:

For every essay assignment as a whole (sketch, rough draft, and final), I require students to submit ONE complete draft to Smarthinking, an online tutoring program accessed through our Brightspace page, for an “Essay Review”. So, at least once per essay assignment from as soon as you have a complete draft, you will need to submit a draft to Smarthinking. We will be taking time to go over the submission process and techniques for using the service to get additional help with your writing a bit later in the course content..

However, there are a few general things that I want to apprise you of before you go into using the service:

- Make sure that you familiarize yourself with the interface before you have to submit a paper.
- When you fill out the “Submission Form”, be as specific as possible about the description of the assignment and the kind of help you are requesting.
- Since Smarthinking can take 24-48 hrs. to read and respond to your essay draft, you need to make sure that you submit early enough. You will want to give yourself enough time to get the feedback, make changes, and possibly submit it again for additional review. This means that submissions later than a day or two before the final draft is due will not likely assist your writing to much degree.
- A complete Smarthinking review MUST be submitted with the final draft or risk losing 10% off of the total grade for the draft.

Revisions:

Students have the opportunity to rewrite the Final Drafts for Essays 1 and 2

To earn a higher grade on a rewrite, you must:

1. Make an appointment and meet with me before completing a rewrite,
2. Have originally submitted a draft on time,
3. Revise and/or reorganize a significant portion of the essay,
4. Resubmit the revision on time, no later than two weeks from the day returned, and
5. Points lost for being late cannot be made up for any reason, and points for peer reviews will have a limited ability to earn those points depending on the situation and time restraints.

Writing Grading Standards:

The rubric, below, is what I use to guide my grading of all written assignments. It describes my standards for grading. This is a prose-style description of the qualities required for each grade level. We will be discussing the specific aspects and their worth as the semester progresses, but you should become familiar with what each grade represents.

If you have questions about what I mean or am looking for, then please schedule an appointment early in the semester to talk to me. Here is my rubric:

- An A paper (90-100%) is excellent in nearly all respects. It shows originality of thought that goes well beyond material presented in class. It is well argued and well organized with a clear, specific, and ambitious thesis. It is well developed with content that is specific, interesting, appropriate, and convincing. It has logical and artful transitions and is marked by stylistic finesse and varied sentence structures. It demonstrates command of mature diction and has few, if any, mechanical, grammatical, spelling, or diction errors.
- A B paper (80-89%) is excellent in several respects but may have a less sophisticated thesis, a less distinguished style, some minor lapses in organization and development, some ineffective sentence structures, and some minor mechanical, grammatical, spelling, or diction problems.

- A C paper (70-79%) is generally competent, but compared to a B paper, it may have a weaker thesis and less effective style and development. It may contain some lapses in organization, poor or awkward transitions, less varied sentence structures that tend toward choppy or monotony, significant problems with mechanics, grammar, spelling, and diction.
- A D paper (60-69%) is below average and may present a thesis that is too vague or too obvious to be developed effectively. It generally exhibits problems with organization, support, transitions, sentence structures, mechanics, grammar, spelling, and diction that impede understanding.
- An F paper (59% and below) is far below average and may have no clear thesis or central topic. It may display a lack of organization, support, and development. It may contain major and repeated problems with mechanics, grammar, spelling, and diction and may fail to fulfill the assignment or may be unacceptably brief.

NOTE: Notice how high the standards for “A”, “B”, and even “C” papers are. This might be significantly different from your experience in other classes or in high school.

Participation Grading/Expectations:

Participation does count for 5% of your final grade. While it's not a TON, you should make sure that you make active and frequent engagement a part of your coursework.

I primarily assess participation grades based on a combination of...

- Attendance/timeliness of turning in work.
- Quality and frequency of demonstrating preparation BEFORE class.
- Quality and frequency of questions (whether in class, discussions, conferences, etc).
- Contributions to class/course as a whole by engaging with fellow students, instructor, and core ideas and assignments.
- Time management, professionalism, collegiality, and following of directions overall.

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:

Important Teaching and Learning Definitions:

“In-class”: The term “in-class” refers to time spent engaging with Brightspace or Google Classroom in a manner similar to face-to-face courses: reading lectures, completing quizzes, or watching course videos.

“Out-of-class”: The term “out-of-class” refers to time spent engaging with reading, homework, or writing and thinking similar to face-to-face courses’ homework: reading, watching resource videos, doing research, writing and revising drafts.

Working Ahead:

In general, I've structured the course for students to complete each "unit" of work in conjunction with their classmates. Therefore, the course includes assignments (particularly course discussions on Google Classroom and Essay Peer Reviews) that cannot be completed before the class progresses to that point in the course.

However, because I know that students often like to or need to work ahead, I've made all of the Units, Unit Overviews, and writing assignments accessible from the start of class. Students are welcome to read and work ahead as much as possible, but since this course focuses on skill development and skill development takes time, practice, and feedback, then the course deliberately expects students to slow down at points and reflect on and receive feedback on their writing, reading, and thinking skills from their instructor and peers.

Online/Hybrid Attendance:

Attendance in an online/hybrid course obviously differs from a face-to-face course. However, in an online course, student preparation and participation become even more important in order for the course to encourage student development and grow in knowledge and skills.

Students who fail to complete more than one required assignment for the unit by the deadline (or miss a deadline for a rough or final draft) can be counted as "absent" for that unit, regardless of whether they are physically in-class (for hybrid courses) or logged in (for hybrid or online courses).

Course Attendance Policies:

- In accordance with the MCC Attendance policy, students who miss more than 25% of the course will be dropped from the course (barring specific, emergency situations which the student and instructor have communicated and agreed on).
 - If there is a valid reason why you went/will overreach the allowed absences, please contact me ASAP to talk about options and reductions in penalties.
- If you are absent for one of the "excused" reasons allowed by the MCC-wide policy, you will still need to make up work, when possible and permitted.
 - For most of the excused reasons, you should know beforehand that you will be missing class and must make arrangements prior to missing class in these cases.
- Your "excused" absences can still count against the "allowed" absences for the class.
 - If you are a member of a team or organization that would require you to miss frequently, then we need to talk, and a meeting between me, the organization supervisor/coach, and you might be necessary to plan out the ways to minimize these problems.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Definitions:

PLAGIARISM:

the use of someone else's work without crediting or properly adapting materials from that work. If you use quotes, ideas, opinions, arguments, examples, summaries, paraphrases, statistics, outlines, graphics, etc., you must cite your sources. Info not cited is considered plagiarized unless it is all common knowledge or your own observations or ideas. Plagiarism is easy to detect and almost as easy to prove. Please cite sources.

MULTIPLE SUBMISSION OF PAPERS FOR COURSES:

Normally, a paper done for one class may not be submitted in another class. However, if work in two different classes is similar but differs in significant ways, it may be acceptable. To be safe, you should get written approval first (by showing me the work done for the other class), before revising your work for this class.

COLLUSION:

getting someone else to do your work. You should get help outside of class, and I encourage everyone to make at least one visit to the Writing Center to see what type of tutoring assistance is offered. After all, the goal in this course is that you learn to write better. But if you let others actually do your work, I will probably notice and you may fail the course. Note: Large discrepancies in quality between writing assignments may result in the requirement of additional timed or proctored work, will lead to an automatic zero for the assignment and can lead to an “F” for the course, depending on the level of the violation. All violations will be submitted to Student Development and will be recorded in the case that students have further problems with academic integrity.

Violations of the Academic Integrity Policy:

It is MUCH better to ask for help than to beg for forgiveness. I’m here to help, and we have lots of resources to assist students who are struggling and think that cheating might be a way out. It is not worth getting caught and penalized.

Email Policy:

McLennan Community College would like to remind you of the policy (<http://www.mclennan.edu/employees/policy-manual/docs/E-XXXI-B.pdf>) regarding college email. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use their McLennan email addresses when conducting college business.

A student's McLennan email address is the preferred email address that college employees should use for official college information or business. Students are expected to read and, if needed, respond in a timely manner to college emails. For more information about your student email account, go to www.mclennan.edu/student-email.

Instructional Uses of Email:

Faculty members can determine classroom use of email or electronic communications. Faculty should expect and encourage students to check the college email on a regular basis. Faculty should inform students in the course syllabus if another communication method is to be used and of any special or unusual expectations for electronic communications.

If a faculty member prefers not to communicate by email with their students, it should be reflected in the course syllabus and information should be provided for the preferred form of communication.

Email on Mobile Devices:

The College recommends that you set up your mobile device to receive McLennan emails. If you need assistance with set-up, you may email Helpdesk@mclennan.edu for help.
