Methods of Teaching and Learning:

This course utilizes Inquiry Based Learning (IBL) methods with music, intra-disciplinary lectures, readings, articals, videos, power points, charts, and instructor notes to deliver content. It then uses multiple choice tests and report assignments to assess content mastery, critical thinking skills, reading comprehension, and communications skills. IBL is defined as: a learning process through questions generated from the interests, curiosities, and perspectives/experiences of the learner. The instructor's role in the classroom does not remain the same throughout the IBL process. At first, it is recommended that the instructor validates student responses to encourage additional participation. Then, the instructor should focus the answers to promote logical and analytical thinking. IBL facilitates understanding and helps students internalize processes and concepts more clearly than memorization by fostering critical thinking. This method engages students in learning and encourages students to strive for a better understanding of the process or concept.

Hip Hop is used as a tool to stimulate students' reading, writing, and critical reflection upon the complexities of their lives, and to give them a sense of agency derived from their capacity to understand and reconstruct their realities. Music gives students the freedom to be creative and explore different techniques that will induce student engagement, learning, reflection, and regurgitation of course content.

In this course, a chapter or more will be covered weekly. Learning will be comprised of instructor's information of current issues, text book information, articals, videos, along with various web links that students may examine for further information. Each day will end with an "ASSIGNMENT" whether it is chapter(s) readings, a paper, an article on Brightspace, or preparing for an examination. Examinations will cover chapters that were discussed in class the prior week(s) and are designed to assess learning.

Basic Course Structure: This course is organized into units which contains quizzes, exams, and research reports. Each Unit lesson contains chapter readings followed by supportive videos.

Getting Started Quiz: Your first graded assignment is the Course Orientation Quiz. Unlimited attempts are allowed before the deadline.

Homework Q & A: Informal discussions about assignments, government and political topics. These are student-lead conversations to practice political exploration and analysis.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT
GOVT. 2305 SECTION NUMBER 03, 08, CO5 MIDWAY

Quizzes: The quizzes correspond with each chapter and the related material; all 15 are required. You may attempt each as many times as you would like and your highest score will be recorded. Each quiz is worth 20 points for a total of 300 points.

Exams: A total of four exams will be administered and completed online. Each exam is worth 50 points for a total of 200 points. The format is multiple-choice, based on the readings, videos, discussions, quizzes, and research reports. All exams are mandatory.

- Exams require that you use Respondus Lockdown Browser and require a webcam for Respondus Monitor. This browser and a webcam are only needed for examinations.

Research Reports: You are required to respond to prompts encompassing Federal Government topics. A thorough reports must be a MINIMUM OF 2 PAGES long (2 pages are not the maximum- you're free to write more than 2 pages). Each report is worth 100 points.

- Report Font is 12 inches/ Times New Roman, 1½ spacing, and 1-inch margins.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

Courses in this category focus on consideration of the Constitution of the United States and the constitutions of the states. Courses involve the analysis of governmental institutions, political behavior, civic engagement, and their political and philosophical foundations.

- 1) Critical Thinking Skills (CT): “to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information.”
- 2) Communication Skills (COMM): “to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication.”

A document is late after the due date and time. Submit your papers from your personal Brightspace account; do not use the account of another student.

EXTRA CREDIT POLICY

In the Online Course Federal Government 2305, there are NO EXTRA CREDIT POINTS. Because, students can use open book, open notes, and open internet for quizzes and research reports. Students are also allowed to use their own notes on all exams. These elements allow for an equal playing field to ensure the best possible outcomes for all students.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to maintain Class and Discussion Board decorum that includes respect for other students and the instructor, prompt and regular attendance, and an attitude that seeks to take full advantage of the education opportunity. There are several classroom and Discussion Board policies regarding behavior in a college course that students should be aware of before proceeding with this class. First, all students should treat the instructor, as well as other students, with respect. Secondly, students should use complete sentences when communicating and on deliverables. Building proper writing skills is something that students should constantly be undertaking in any academic course. As a result, students should not use slang, abbreviations, etc. when writing or communicating in class. On a similar note, students should not write with “text message” styles of writing either. For example, do not use “u” when you mean “you”. Similarly, students should not use all lower-case letters or all capital letters. Write as you would if this were an essay for an English class. Finally, students who have complaints about others' disruptive behavior should first talk to the professor about the problem. I will then speak with the disruptive student privately. Then, if the problem(s) persist, other actions will be taken at the discretion of the professor. If the professor can't solve the problem with the disruptive student, then the Division Director of Social Sciences will be contacted immediately. The potential sanctions for persons who disrupt class or their fellow students include (but are not limited to) moving you to a different section, dropping you from the course entirely, to giving you an "F" for the course, at the instructor's discretion. So, please don't interrupt others!

Minimum Technical Skills:

Students should have basic computer skills, knowledge of word processing software, and a basic understanding of how to use search engines and common web browsers.

Backup Plan for Technology:

In the event MCC's technology systems are down, you will be notified via your MCC student email address. Please note that all assignments and activities will be due on the date specified in the Instructor Plan, unless otherwise noted by the instructor.

Email Policy:

McLennan Community College would like to remind you of the policy regarding college email, which can be found at <https://www.mclennan.edu/employees/policy-manual/docs/E-XXXI-B.pdf>. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use their McLennan email addresses when conducting college business.

A student's McLennan email address is the preferred email address that college employees should use for official college information or business. Students are expected to read and, if needed, respond in a timely manner to college emails. For more information about your student email account, go to <https://www.mclennan.edu/student-email/>.

Instructional Uses of Email:

Faculty members can determine classroom use of email or electronic communications. Faculty should expect and encourage students to check the college email on a regular basis. Faculty should inform students in the course syllabus if another communication method is to be used and of any special or unusual expectations for electronic communications.

If a faculty member prefers not to communicate by email with their students, it should be reflected in the course syllabus and information should be provided for the preferred form of communication.

Email on Mobile Devices:

The College recommends that you set up your mobile device to receive McLennan emails. If you need assistance with set-up, you may email Helpdesk@mclennan.edu for help.

You can find help on the McLennan website about connecting your McLennan email account to your mobile device:

- Email Setup for iPhones and iPads
- Email Setup for Androids

Forwarding Emails:

You may forward emails that come to your McLennan address to alternate email addresses; however, the College will not be held responsible for emails forwarded to an alternate address that may be lost or placed in junk or spam filters.

For more helpful information about technology at MCC, go to MCC's Tech Support Cheat Sheet or email helpdesk@mclennan.edu.
