Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Participation is one of the most essential requirements for this class. Your success within this class depends upon your performance during scheduled class periods. Prompt and regular attendance of all scheduled classes with energy and focus is essential if you wish to perform at an optimal level. You do not need to bring me a doctor's note if you miss class. "Excused absences" do not exist and are not an option, regardless of the reason for the absence. I will have considerable empathy when students are sick or at important events such as funerals, but absences will not be removed from a student's record for any reason.
