All the following acts are considered plagiarism or cheating:

- Turning in someone's work as your own or modifying another's work and representing it as one's own work
- Copying words or ideas or visuals from someone else (like the internet) without giving credit
- Failure to cite sources for written or visual work
- Giving incorrect information about the source of a quotation
- Submitting as your own any written assignments prepared totally or in part by another (this includes “cutting and pasting” from websites for assignments and essays).
