NOTE: This is a 16-week course.

COVID 19 Notice:

McLennan Community College is committed to providing you with every resource you need to reach your academic goals including your safety. We will continue to monitor the evolving situation with COVID 19 and adjust our safety guidelines to make sure we offer a safe environment for you and our faculty. Please make sure to consult your faculty and the MCC website at <https://www.mclennan.edu/crisis-management/coronavirus-updates/index.html> on any changes to these guidelines.

COMPOSITION II

ENGL 1302 C05

Course Description:

Intensive study of and practice in the strategies and techniques for developing research-based expository and persuasive texts. Emphasis on effective and ethical rhetorical inquiry, including primary and secondary research methods; critical reading of verbal, visual, and multimedia texts; systematic evaluation, synthesis, and documentation of information sources; and critical thinking about evidence and conclusions.

Prerequisites and/or Corequisites:

ENGL 1301 or its equivalent with a grade of C or better, or consent of Division Chair.

Course Notes and Instructor Recommendations:

If you're like most students, you're taking this course because it is required. In fact, I was a reluctant participant in my first-year writing courses when I began college. Many students have had unfavorable experiences with English classes or writing assignments, and even those who enjoy writing generally agree that it is hard work. Whatever your background or interest level, I hope you'll come to appreciate, as I did, that your composition courses will help you acquire valuable skills that make your life easier. Quite simply, good writing is closely tied to good thinking, and communicating effectively is important no matter what you do.

Composition II guides students through the conventions of research-based academic writing. This class requires students to write substantially, producing a variety of texts. Students analyze academic and general sources and employ active reading strategies. This course emphasizes the writing process (prewriting, drafting, and revision), collaboration, and the fundamentals of research and citation. Students who complete this course should feel confident to write in academic and professional settings. Note: This course requires students to develop a research project through faculty guidance, library support, and independent work outside of class.

I believe that everyone can improve writing, reading, and thinking skills, and I am committed to helping you succeed. It does take dedicated effort on your part, though. Because of the potential benefits, I expect a lot from you: You must prepare for class carefully, participate actively, and submit your best work punctually. Take advantage of the resources I offer, and commit to gaining all that you can from this course.

COMPOSITION II

ENGL 1302 C05

NOTE: I am a very tough grader. Please expect to work in this class. I am not lenient on grading assignments. A 'C' grade is average work in my class; a 'B' is for work I believe shows promise and strong effort, skill, and logical arguments. 'A' work shows all of this but is exceptional work. That means it is clear, logical, focused, and shows a strong effort to engage in themes and class discussions. Shoddy/incomplete/messy/slapped-together/missed-the-assignment work earns a 'D' or lower. Enrolling in this course does not entitle you to any grade. You will earn your grade in this course. Nevertheless, I am more than happy to discuss any questions you may have concerning the grades you receive.

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:

- Late work: As a rule, I do not accept late work. In rare cases (hospitalization, serious car accident, etc.), I will allow students to submit work late, but only if the situation warrants it. If something unexpected happens that may affect your ability to submit an assignment, please contact me immediately (either by e-mail or phone, prior to the due date). Major assignments that miss the due date by more than three days will automatically receive an F. Assignments turned in after the due date (no more than three days after) will automatically lose 10 points per day.
- Attendance: Regular and punctual class attendance is essential for a successful learning experience. The format of the class requires that each student comes prepared to take an active participation in class sessions. Students who consistently come late disrupt the procedure of the classroom and distract students from learning. If you come to the class more than 20 minutes late or leave the class early, you will be counted absent. If you sleep during the class, you will be counted absent. To be counted 'present,' students must attend class and actively participate.

According to MCC attendance policy, 25% of absences (eight class sessions) may result in being withdrawn from the course with the grade of W or F, depending on whether a student is passing. An absence from a class session will be excused if it is caused by authorized participation in official College functions, personal illness, an illness or a death in the immediate family, or the observance of a religious holy day. However, even excused absences count toward 25% attendance requirement. Please notify me via e-mail in advance if you are unable to attend any given class session and provide the necessary documentation (a doctor's note or a letter from a College official).

- Make-up Work: Unless arrangements are made in advance with the instructor, there will be no make-ups for in-class assignments and daily work, quizzes, or exams.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to maintain classroom decorum that includes respect for other students and the instructor, prompt and regular attendance, and an attitude that seeks to take full advantage of the education opportunity.

Academic Integrity

Engaging in academic misconduct violates the academic integrity of the institution and is a significant offense. Students involved in any of the following warrants immediate disciplinary action:

- Cheating: 1) Copying from another student's test paper, essay, assignment, or computer files and listings; 2) Using, during any academic exercise, material and/or devices not authorized by the person in charge of the assessment; 3) Collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during an assessment without permission; 4) Knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in its entirety or in part, the contents of a test or other assignment unauthorized for release; 5) Substituting for another student or permitting another student to substitute for oneself.
- Plagiarism: The deliberate appropriation, theft, purchase or obtaining by any means another's work, and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of that work as one's own offered for credit. Appropriation includes the quoting or paraphrasing of another's work without giving credit.
 For students who are retaking this course, you may not reuse essays written in a previous semester, in part or in whole. All writing that you submit must be new and original work.
- Collusion: The unauthorized collaboration with another in preparing work offered for credit.
