ANATOMY & PHYSIOLOGY II

BIOL 2402.001 | M/ W S225 | 8-10:55am

Course Description:

Anatomy and Physiology II is the second part of a two-course sequence. In BIOL 2402 we study of the structure and function of the human body including the following systems: endocrine, cardiovascular, lymphatic, immune, respiratory, digestive, urinary, and reproductive, with emphasis on interrelationships among systems and regulation of physiological functions involved in maintaining homeostasis. The lab provides a opportunity for exploration of human system components and basic physiology.

NOTE: Must have passed the reading and writing portion of the TSI Assessment or have credit for INRW 0402. Semester Hours 4 (3 lec/3lab)

Prerequisites and/or Corequisites: BIOL 2401 with grade of at least a C

Course Notes and Instructor Recommendations:

- 1. No days off. Schedule time every day to accomplish something large or small.
- 2. Stick to the due dates. Be your own boss. Get it done.
- 3. BE CERTAIN YOU ARE ŘECEIVING ANNOUNCEMENTS/EMAILS ON STUDENT EMAIL
- 4. Ask questions. Ask me. Ask yourself. Ask a friend. Ask the internet. Be a detective.
- 5. Want it? Work for it. Don't give up. If you can, form a study group.

Methods of Teaching and Learning:

I use PowerPoint as my main mode of lecture delivery and hands-on lab teaching with a lab manual (required). Be prepared to take notes in class and create study guides. Brightspace, aka Desire 2 Learn (D2L) will be your best friend for keeping up with the material and important announcements.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

Critical Thinking (CT) -- to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information

• Taught through daily discussion and assessed using lecture exams with a course-wide bank of CT questions and laboratory exercises that challenge students to answer more complicated real-life questions and predict outcomes using what they've learned in lecture.

Communications Skill (COM)-- to include effective written, oral, and visual communication

• Taught through formal or informal presentation (including oral, written, and visual components), class discussion and assessment via common rubric for use of scientific language, clarity, and understanding. Also taught using scientific articles or current events within face-to-face or online discussion groups.

Empirical & Quantitative Skills (EQS) -- to include applications of scientific and mathematical concepts.
Taught using specific laboratory exercises involving measurements and very basic data collection. (E.g., measuring arm length among each group, tallying the data, and then analyzing it by gender and height.).

Teamwork - to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal

• Taught using specific laboratory or homework exercises and/or through class or online discussion of a given topic.

Learning Outcomes (lecture):

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Use anatomical terminology to identify and describe locations of major organs of each system covered.

2. Explain interrelationships among molecular, cellular, tissue, and organ functions in each system.

3. Describe the interdependency and interactions of the systems.

4. Explain contributions of organs and systems to the maintenance of homeostasis.

5. Identify causes and effects of homeostatic imbalances.

6. Describe modern technology and tools used to study anatomy and physiology.

Learning Outcomes (laboratory):

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

- 1. Apply appropriate safety and ethical standards.
- 2. Locate and identify anatomical structures.
- 3. Appropriately utilize laboratory equipment, such as microscopes, dissection tools, general lab ware, physiology data acquisition systems, and virtual simulations.
- 4. Work collaboratively to perform experiments.
- 5. Demonstrate the steps involved in the scientific method.
- 6. Communicate results of scientific investigations, analyze data and formulate conclusions.
- 7. Use critical thinking and scientific problem-solving skills, including, but not limited to, inferring, integrating, synthesizing, and summarizing, to make decisions, recommendations and predictions

Course Attendance/Participation Guidelines:

If a student is not in attendance in accordance with the policies/guidelines of the class as outlined in the course syllabus as of the course census date, faculty are required to drop students from their class roster prior to certifying the respective class roster. A student's financial aid will be re-evaluated accordingly and the student will only receive funding for those courses attended as of the course census date.

Before the 60% point of the semester, a student who is absent for 25% or more of a face-to-face or blended course or who misses 25% or more of assigned work for an online course will be withdrawn from the course with a grade of W. A student may also request to be withdrawn with a grade of W before the 60% point of the semester. After the 60% point of the semester, the student may request to be withdrawn if the student is passing, or be assigned the final grade earned at the end of the semester after grades have been updated to reflect missing work.
