Description of Assignments

Reuse Policy

All writing must be new and original work. Students cannot reuse previous essays. If a student submits unoriginal work, this student will receive a zero on the assignment. In cases of plagiarism, even self-plagiarism, you cannot resubmit a new assignment.

MLA

For this course, our citation style is MLA. In addition to class meetings on MLA and resources on Brightspace, here is an online resource.

Essay #1 (10%)

A literacy narrative simply allows you to describe personal experiences that have influenced how you utilize and interpret language. In other words, what key moments influenced your attitude toward reading, writing, and communication as a whole? Write your personal story and describe how these experiences have shaped you. This personal narrative should be a minimum of three double-spaced pages. Research is not required. However, it should follow current MLA formatting guidelines.

Essay #2 (15%)

This essay introduces you to the research process. Before starting this essay, select a (narrow) topic that interests you. Then, create a research question on this topic. Next, find and read FIVE sources on this topic. In your essay, you will want to summarize, analyze, and state your findings about each source. Your introduction will state your research question and why you selected this topic, and your conclusion will discuss potential arguments you could make on this topic based on your research. This essay should be in MLA format (e.g., Times New Roman, size 12, double space your essay, etc.). Additionally, it should be a minimum of four pages (not including the Works Cited page) and include a Works Cited page.

Essay #3 (20%)

In this essay, you will state, support, and prove a position on a narrow topic. Although you will select an audience for this essay, please consider the pros and cons of each type of audience (see class notes on "Audience Selection"). Ultimately, your goal is to persuade an audience of your choosing that your argument is valid by using elements of academic writing (e.g., a clear and strong thesis, evidence, analysis, refutation, clarity, etc.). This essay should be in MLA format (e.g., Times New Roman, size 12, double space your essay, etc.). You have to incorporate at least five sources. Additionally, this essay should be a minimum of four pages (not including the Works Cited page) and include a Works Cited page.

Essav #4 (25%)

In this essay, you will select a place to profile and prove that it honors a claim that it makes about itself. You will write this essay to an audience of your choosing. After selecting a place to profile, visit it, take notes and photographs, and interview people. This research process will provide the evidence that you need to prove your argument. Consider the following example: As stated in MCC's Mission, the core values of MCC are: 1) People Matter; 2) Inclusiveness Matters; 3) Integrity Matters; 4) Communication Matters; and 5) Excellence Matters. For this essay, you could select ONE of these five values. Then, you could compose an essay, showing how this value permeates a place on campus. (You are not required to write about MCC. MCC is just an example.) This essay should be in MLA format (e.g., Times New Roman, size 12, double space your essay, etc.). You have to incorporate at least one interview, one visual, and one source. Additionally, this essay should be a minimum of four pages (not including the Works Cited page) and include a Works Cited page.

Final Exam (10%)

For the final exam, you will write an essay in class. You will receive a prompt at the beginning of our final exam period. All writing will be completed during our final exam time.

Participation (20%)

Students will be evaluated on their daily work, which includes in-class writing assignments, peer-review workshops, self-review assignments, group activities, homework, quizzes, and class discussions. If a student is absent, a student is unable to participate.

Essay Prompts and Grading Rubrics

Please find and review each prompt and grading rubric for every assignment on Brightspace.

Revision Opportunities

You can revise Essay #1, Essay #2, and/or Essay #3. However, you must submit a revision within seven days after receiving a grade. To submit a revision, complete these steps: 1) Highlight the changes you make in yellow and 2) Upload the revised essay to Brightspace. If you fail to follow any of these steps, your revised essay will not be accepted.

Classroom Policies

Course Attendance/Participation Guidelines

If a student is not in attendance in accordance with the policies/guidelines of the class as outlined in the course syllabus as of the course census date, faculty are required to drop students from their class roster prior to certifying the respective class roster. A student's financial aid will be re-evaluated accordingly and the student will only receive funding for those courses attended as of the course census date.

Before the 60% point of the semester, a student who is absent for 25% or more of a face-to-face or blended course or who misses 25% or more of assigned work for an online course will be withdrawn from the course with a grade of W. A student may also request to be withdrawn with a grade of W before the 60% point of the semester. After the 60% point of the semester, the student may request to be withdrawn if the student is passing, or be assigned the final grade earned at the end of the semester after grades have been updated to reflect missing work.

Your presence in class, or participation and attendance, will affect your academic standing in the course. For the sake of transparency, I will take attendance every class period and update your attendance on Brightspace. If you must miss class due to an emergency (see more below) or an excused absence (review MCC's full policy on excused student absences), it is your responsibility to 1) keep up with the course and 2) request notes from a peer (or visit me during my office hours).

Late to Class

It is your responsibility to be on time for every class. Students who are tardy (three minutes late or more) distract the class and may miss roll call.

Evaluation and Late Work

You will find prompts and grading rubrics for every assignment on Brightspace. While we will review every prompt and grading rubric as a class, you may want to read these documents over to express any question or comment that you may have BEFORE you submit a final draft. For every due date, you must upload a draft to Brightspace. Late assignments will NOT be accepted. If you have any technological issues, simply email your final draft to me on the due date. If you submit an essay before it is due and I grade it and provide feedback, you cannot resubmit another draft based on my feedback (even if you can meet the deadline).

Emergencies

If an emergency occurs, preventing you from attending class and/or submitting an assignment, please submit documentation that verifies the emergency within five days. We can, then, discuss potential make-up scenarios.

Student Behavioral Expectations

Students are expected to adhere to MCC's General Conduct Policy inside and outside the classroom. Our classroom environment should be productive, collaborative, and respectful. We should all respect everyone's comments. Do not distract or disrespect your classmates. If you cause a classroom disruption, which includes sleeping in class, talking in class when you should not be talking, excessive lateness, making and/or receiving phone calls or text messages, listening to music, completing readings or work for another class, etc., I will ask you to leave the classroom immediately.

Technologies

During class, do not use cell phones, watches, or other electronic devices that will distract you. While you can use a laptop to take notes, do not use your laptop to complete tasks unrelated to our course (e.g., texting, shopping, or social media).

Academic Integrity

As stated in MCC's information about Academic Integrity, "the term 'cheating' includes, but is not limited to: (1) use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; (2) dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the professor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems or carrying out other assignments; or (3) the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the MCC faculty or staff." Additionally, "the term 'plagiarism' includes, but is not limited to, the use, by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials." If you use AI to write some of or an entire essay, you are plagiarizing. Finally, "'collusion' includes, but is not limited to: The unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit." Students who commit any of these academic violations will face immediate disciplinary action. After a first offense, a student will receive a zero on the assignment. If a second offense occurs, the student will receive a zero on the assignment and will be reported to Student Conduct. The Associate Director may determine additional penalties.

Course Schedule

Potential Course Modifications

This syllabus represents diligent planning based on knowledge at the beginning of the semester. Further adaptations may be required. In the event it is necessary to update academic policies, students will be provided with as much notice as possible regarding any subsequent course changes. Simply put, if necessary, the professor has the right to change the syllabus. To ensure vou do well, KEEP UP WITH THE SYLLABUS.
