Introduction to Sociology

SOCI - 1301 – O180

Dr. Bill Lockhart

Taught during the first 8 weeks of Spring 2024
January 8-Feb. 27, 2024

NOTE: This is an 8-week course.

NOTE: This is an Online course.

Course Description:

The scientific study of human society, including ways in which groups, social institutions, and individuals affect each other. Causes of social stability and social change are explored through the application of various theoretical perspectives, key concepts, and related research methods of sociology. Analysis of social issues in their institutional context may include topics such as social stratification, gender, race/ethnicity, and deviance.

Prerequisites and/or Corequisites: None.

Course Notes and Instructor Recommendations:

I teach this class because I want you to have your best life possible and I think learning sociology can help you with that. Sociology can teach you an awareness of yourself, other people and how groups and organizations, cultures, technologies, and societies impact you, and – believe it or not -- how you can impact them.

This is a college course, which means that you are responsible for your own learning. I provide guidance and encouragement, and explanation and application as needed, but you need to act appropriately so you can learn. To do well in this class you need to have the college level abilities to:

1. work steadily and seriously desire to master the course material;
2. read and comprehend a textbook;
3. write paragraphs and short papers using a computer's word processor;
4. consistently access Brightspace, and do online assignments

8 Week Internet Course: Many students choose to take internet courses for the convenience of not having to commute to a physical classroom during set hours each week.

It also feels “freer” with opportunities to take care of other responsibilities and perhaps to even travel. However because you don't have to “show up” at a set time and place, you really need to be organized and self-disciplined to do well in online courses – particularly in the shorter 8 week courses!

However if you are disciplined and work hard—and have a good computer and reliable quality internet access -- you can successfully gain college credit, and experience a new sociological perspective on life around you and enjoy many new things about our social world.

Our classroom: Consider the class Brightspace page to be the “classroom” in which we meet. Brightspace will be an essential element in this course and all online courses. Brightspace will be the prime place for us to interact, via discussion boards, messages, lessons, and instructions. I will also make additional readings and instructional material available via Brightspace. If you do not know

Other Instruction Information: Instructor is hearing impaired, so it is best to contact him in person or via email. If you contact him by phone☎, be sure to speak clearly and slowly and be ready to repeat.

Required Text & Materials:

Good news: your textbook for this class is available for free online! And it will be linked through Brightspace. Go to <https://openstax.org/details/books/introduction-sociology-3e>. You can access it there for free in "Web View" or download it (or any of its chapters) as a PDF document which opens with the free Adobe Reader software (probably already on your computer and maybe also your tablet or phone). If you prefer, you can also get a print version at a very low cost by renting or purchasing a copy at the MCC Bookstore.

MCC Bookstore Website: <http://www.mclennan.edu/bookstore/>

Note: the MCC Bookstore Website says that this text is "recommended". What is recommended by the bookstore is that you purchase a printed copy; what is required by the instructor is that you read the textbook at least weekly, either in an online or printed version. So, be sure to get access to this textbook in whatever form suits you best.

Title: Introduction to Sociology 3e

Author: OpenStax

Edition: Third

Publisher: OpenStax

Publish Date: Jun 03, 2021

Web Version Last Updated: Jul 20, 2021

Hardcover: ISBN-13: 978-1-711493-98-5

Paperback: ISBN-13: 978-1-711493-97-8

Digital: ISBN-13: 978-1-951693-36-7

In addition to your textbook, you'll need:

- Good, consistent access to MCC's email system and its Brightspace webpages.

- Use of a word processing software. MCC provides Microsoft Office 365 to all students: <http://www.mclennan.edu/tech-support/software>. [Note: I can only open Word (.doc and .docx), Adobe PDF (.pdf) and Rich Text Format (.rtf) documents; if you use another word processor, you'll need to save your documents in one of these formats to submit it to me online on Brightspace.]

Methods of Teaching and Learning:

As described below under Course Grading Information, this course requires four different types of assignments and the failure to complete any one of them will cause you to fail this course. These four include: participating in class discussions (online); taking online quizzes; taking online and one "in-class" exams; and writing three "doing sociology" short sociological research papers which will each give you the "hands on" opportunity to try out a sociological research method. You will also learn from reading the textbook and viewing PowerPoints and other online materials.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

As part of the MCC Core Curriculum, this course seeks to develop the following core competencies:

Core Objectives for Social & Behavioral Sciences:

Courses in this category focus on the application of empirical and scientific methods that contribute to the understanding of what makes us human. Courses involve the exploration of behaviors and interactions among individuals, groups, institutions, and events, examining their impact on the individual, society, and culture.

- Critical Thinking (CT) -- to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information
- Communications Skill (COM) -- to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication
- Empirical & Quantitative Skills (EQS) -- to include the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions
- Social Responsibility (SR) -- to include intercultural competency, civic knowledge, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities

Student Learning Outcomes

As a transferable course within the state of Texas, this course covers the introductory basics of the science of Sociology. Students successfully completing this course will be able to meet each of these sociology student learning objectives: (Letters in parentheses refer to the related core objectives for social and behavioral sciences.)

1. Compare and contrast the basic theoretical perspectives of sociology. (CT & COM)

Taught through lectures, assigned reading, and class discussions

Assessed by objective quizzes and exams and writing assignments

2. Identify the various methodological approaches to the collection and analysis of data in sociology. (EQS)

Taught through lectures, assigned reading, and class discussions

Assessed by objective exams and/or written assignments

3. Describe key concepts in sociology. (CT & COM)

Taught through lectures, assigned reading, and class discussions

Assessed by objective exams, assigned papers, and/or presentation

4. Describe the empirical findings of various subfields of sociology. (CT, COM & EQS)

Taught through lectures, assigned reading, and class discussions

Assessed by objective exams, assigned papers, and/or assigned presentation

5. Explain the complex links between individual experiences and broader institutional forces. (CT, COM & SR)

Taught through lectures, assigned reading, and class discussions

Assessed by objective exams, assigned papers, and/or assigned presentation

Course Attendance/Participation Guidelines:

If a student is not in attendance in accordance with the policies/guidelines of the class as outlined in the course syllabus as of the course census date, faculty are required to drop students from their class roster prior to certifying the respective class roster. A student's financial aid will be re-evaluated accordingly and the student will only receive funding for those courses attended as of the course census date.

Before the 60% point of the semester, a student who is absent for 25% or more of a face-to-face or blended course or who misses 25% or more of assigned work for an online course will be withdrawn from the course with a grade of W. A student may also request to be withdrawn with a grade of W before the 60% point of the semester. After the 60% point of the semester, the student may request to be withdrawn if the student is passing, or be assigned the final grade earned at the end of the semester after grades have been updated to reflect missing work.

Even in online courses, learning involves more than just reading the textbook, writing papers and taking exams. Online class participation is necessary if you hope to achieve a satisfactory grade. This means that you must be checking into our class Brightspace page at least once each week and doing the assignments and discussions for that week.

The instructor can withdraw you from the course after missing 2 weeks in an online 8 week course! Contact me to be sure that you have been withdrawn with a W grade. If you have not contacted me by the 60% date, you may receive an F instead. If you should desire to withdraw from the class for any reason, please see me first. The last day for students to initiate course withdrawals is posted on the MCC Calendar

Remember the "Six Drop" Rule: The Texas State Legislature has required a "six drop" rule stating that students can withdraw from no more than six courses during their undergraduate college career. More information about this policy and how it is being implemented at MCC is available in the Highlander Guide and at <https://www.mclennan.edu/records/withdraw.html>. Combined with the attendance policy this means that if you do not participate sufficiently I will give you an F for the class if you have already dropped six other classes. So, make attendance of classes a high priority for your time. This may then impact your academic standing and financial aid possibilities. There are a few exceptions to this policy, such as for health reasons or for those who withdraw from all of their courses for a semester. Contact the MCC registrar's office or the Highlander Guide for more details.

Course Outline or Schedule:

PLAN AHEAD! During the regular long semester terms we cover about a chapter each week and have assignments due on Wednesdays and Sundays, with the "doing sociology" assignments due mostly on Sundays.

However because this is an Eight Week Course, we'll be covering the material twice as fast, so two chapters a week. Also because student schedules vary, I am providing a short range of dates for the exams. The exams will all be online, but will have time limits and overtime penalties, so you'll need to study and be ready to take these exams when you start them.

Do try to keep up with the schedule for the sake of your classmates and your education. Due to technical difficulties, current events and other factors, all topics, dates and assignments are subject to change. However, this schedule provided below is normally very accurate. Our Brightspace class website will have the latest information and you will be informed of changes by looking at the appropriate pages of that website.

If you have any questions about assignments or due dates, check Brightspace first, and then contact me at wlockhart@mclennan.edu.

Below is the course schedule. I suggest you print it off. Then you can check off the little circles as you complete these tasks. The symbols represent the type of assignment it is.

Unit 1: Thinking and Researching Sociologically

What is this thing called sociology? What's so scientific about it?

Week 1: January 8-14, 2024

- Unless indicated otherwise, do all the following by the end of this week: 11:59 PM on January 14, 2024

Getting Ready to learn at MCC this semester:

-  If you are new to Brightspace (MCC's learning management system), log into Brightspace and review the Brightspace Orientation. You can learn more about Brightspace at MCC at <https://www.mclennan.edu/brightspace-students/>
-  On Brightspace do my Course Orientation which includes navigating our specific Introduction to Sociology Brightspace page and our class syllabus.
-  Take the online orientation quiz as soon as possible and no later than Saturday Jan. 13, 2024. [If you don't get this done by then, I will drop you from the course!]

Chapter 1: Introducing Sociology (and this course)

-  Access the OpenStax textbook at <https://openstax.org/details/books/introduction-sociology-3e> (or obtain a printed copy, if you prefer).
-  Read the first chapter of the textbook (online or with a printed copy, if you got one).
-  Take the chapter 1 quiz on Brightspace
 - These quizzes help in gaining the student learning outcomes (SLOs) 1 & 3 about the sociological perspectives and the key concepts in sociology.

- o 🍄 Post on Introductions Discussion: read instructions on my Brightspace discussion post introduce yourself and apply the sociological imagination. More details on Brightspace. [All DB posts relate to critical thinking, reading, communications and cultural and social understanding as well as key concepts in sociology, SLO 3.]

Chapter 2: Sociological Research [Now we focus on SLO 2: research methods]

- o 📖 Read chapter 2
- o ⌚ Take the chapter quiz
- o 📖 Review the Doing Sociology Project assignments on Brightspace
- o 🍄 Post on the "Me, A Researcher?" discussion board on Brightspace

Week 2: Jan. 15-21, 2024

- Monday January 15 – Martin Luther King, Jr. Day; MCC closed
- Unless indicated otherwise, do all the following by the end of this week.

Chapter 3: Culture [Here we really begin to work on the Student Learning Outcomes ("SLOs" from page 4 of the syllabus) for the course, and we'll continue to work on these during the rest of the course.]

- o 📖 Read Chapter 3 on Culture
- o ⌚ Take the chapter quiz
- o 🍄 Post on the "Culture Shock" discussion board

Chapter 4: Social Structure and Social Interaction

- o 📖 Read Chapter 4 on Social Structure and Social Interaction
- o ⌚ Take the Chapter 4 quizzes
- o 📖 Review the material for the first Unit Exam
- o ⌚ Unit 1 exam taken online between Thursday Jan. 18 and Sunday Jan. 21, 2024 (Used to measure learning outcomes 1 & 2 on sociological perspectives and empirical evidence.)

Unit 2: You and Others: Socialization, the Self, and Groups

Why doesn't everyone see things the way I do?

Groups don't affect me, do they?

Week 3: Jan. 22-28, 2024

Chapter 5: Socialization and the Life Course (ongoing learning of how to be you!)

- o 📖 Read Chapter 5
- o ⌚ Take the chapter quiz
- o 🍄 post on the Socialization discussion board

Chapter 6: Social Groups and Organizations

- o 📖 Read Chapter 6 & ⌚ take the chapter 6 quizzes
- o 🍄 Post on the "Who's my leader?" discussion board

Week 4: Jan. 29-Feb. 4, 2024

- o 📅 Monday Jan. 29, 2024: "Doing Sociology 1" paper due – interview someone from another generation or culture. Complete instructions are on Brightspace. [Emphasis on SLO 2 & 5]

Chapter 7: Deviance, Crime and Social Control

- o 📖 Read chapter 7 and ⌚ take the chapter 7 quizzes
- o 🍄 Post on the "True Crimes" discussion board

- 🕒 Unit 2 Exam covering chapters 5-7 to be taken online at student choice sometime from Wed. Jan., 31 to Sunday Feb. 4, 2024: (used to measure SLO 4 on empirical findings of sociology subfields)

Chapter 14: Marriage and The Family: changing over the generations

Note: this chapter starts Unit 3, but needs to be done during week 4

- 📖 Read Chapter 14 & 🕒 take the chapter 14 quiz
- 💬 Post on the "Marriage and Family" discussion board

Unit 3: People, Places and Work: Change & Social Institutions

The more things change ... the more they stay the same -- or do they?

Does it really matter where you live or what you do?

[This unit includes chapter 14 on Marriage & the Family from week 4]

Week 5: Feb. 5-11, 2024

- 📅 Thursday Feb. 8, 2024: "Doing Sociology 2" paper due – field observation of group behavior or deviance. (Used to develop SLO 2 on research methods.)
- Thursday Feb. 8, 2024 is also the 60% day for 1st 8-week courses and the last day students can initiate a course withdrawal.

Chapter 20: Population, Urbanization and the Environment: why so many people?

- 📖 Read Chapter 20 & 🕒 take the chapter 20 quizzes
- 📖 Review the "Not So Random Numbers" and 🕒 take the quiz on them
- 💬 Post on the "So Many People!" discussion board
- 💬 Post on the "Environment/Urbanization" discussion board

Chapter 18: Work and the Economy, plus portions of other chapters on social change

- 📖 Read Chapter 18 & 🕒 take the chapter 18 quizzes
- 🕒 Unit 3 Exam to be taken between Wednesday Feb. 7 and Sunday Feb. 11, 2024 (used to measure SLO 4 on the empirical findings of sociology subfields and SLO 5 on the complex links between individuals and social forces)

Unit 4: Social Inequality

Why do some people get more of the good things of life than others?

Week 6: Feb. 12-18, 2024

Chapter 9: Social Stratification: The Structure of Inequality

Chapter 10: Global Stratification

- 📖 Read Chapters 9 & 10 and 🕒 take the chapter 9/10 quiz
- 💬 Post on the "Poverty in our world" discussion board

Week 7: Feb. 19-25 – Last week of classes for first 8 week classes

- 📅 Thursday Feb. 22, 2024: "Doing Sociology" paper 3 due: census data and social change (Used to measure CC 1 on critical thinking and SSLO 2 on research methods)

Chapter 11: Inequalities of Race and Ethnicity: Lived Experience

- 📖 Read Chapter 11 & 🕒 take the chapter 11 quizzes
- 💬 Post on the "Race" discussion board

Chapter 12: Inequalities of Gender and Sexuality

- 📖 Read Chapter 12 & 🕒 take the chapter 12 quiz

- o 🍄 Post on the "Gender" discussion board

Week 8: Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 26 & 27, 2024 – Final Exams

- o 🕒 Monday or Tuesday: Final exam to be taken online.
- o 🍄 Post on the "Saying Goodbye" discussion board. (I won't look at these posts until after I turn in grades, but it is a nice way to close the class.)

Course Grading Information:

Although I use points, your course grade is based on a percentage basis, with each assignment contributing to your final grade. You cannot pass the class if you fail all the exams or do not complete the papers. You must average a passing grade for each element of the course. Your grade will be calculated according to the following standard percentage scale:

100 - 90% = A
89 - 80% = B	69 - 60% = D
79 - 70% = C	59 - 0% = F

Learning Units:

As the course calendar demonstrates, there are four main units in this course:

Unit 1: Thinking and Researching Sociologically (chapters 1, 2, 3 and 4)

Unit 2: You and Others: Socialization, the Self, and Groups (chapters 5, 6, and 7)

Unit 3: People, Places and Work: Change & Stability (chapters 14, 20 and 18, and sections of other chapters)

Unit 4: The Structure of Inequality (chapters 9, 10, 11 and 12)

Each unit consists of three to four chapters from the textbook and related assignments, including chapter reading quizzes and a unit exam. Each chapter will have at least one on-line self-administered quiz or problem set. In addition we will have class discussions and some class activities to help us better understand and apply the chapter material.

There will also be three "Doing Sociology" reports due for this course which give you an opportunity to experience what sociologists do as they do their research as well as see real world applications of sociological concepts. These short papers will be tied to the appropriate unit(s). They will not require library research, but "hands on" research in the real world, including interviews, field observations, and census data.

Basic Paper, Discussion, and Presentation Grading Rubric

– see specifics for each assignment on Brightspace

Criteria	Outstanding "A"	Proficient "B"	Basic "C"	Below Expectations "D" or "F"
Critical Thinking	<input type="checkbox"/> Rich in content; <input type="checkbox"/> thoughtful & insightful	<input type="checkbox"/> substantial information; <input type="checkbox"/> thought, insight, and analysis has taken place	<input type="checkbox"/> generally competent; <input type="checkbox"/> information is thin and commonplace	<input type="checkbox"/> rudimentary and superficial; <input type="checkbox"/> no analysis or insight is displayed

Gaining understanding of the material:

Reading the Textbook and reading assessments

The technical terms and formal concepts of an academic discipline are at the heart of an introductory course. The textbook and the instructor's additional materials are your primary resource for learning these. Do not be a passive reader. Question the ideas and concepts you are reading, and post these questions on the relevant discussion forum or email your instructor. (You'll get participation points for these!) Review the questions on essential ideas and concepts of the chapter and consider how the material might affect your own interests and ideas, noting those items with which you agree and those items about which you disagree or are unsure.

Each chapter will have reading assessments. These may include online quizzes on Brightspace. The sum total of these reading assessments will be 20% of your course grade.

Learning and interpreting the material:

Participation in online discussions on Brightspace

Participation on the web site discussions is considered to be an essential part of this course, akin to showing up to class in a face to face course and participating in the class discussions. Not only do you need to be involved in class discussions, but your presence is essential for developing a critical sociological perspective and to learn the material better. Quality posts are those in which a substantial point is made with references to the course and textbook materials. Lesser quality posts will receive fewer points. Some discussion boards involve linking to other internet sites for interactive activities. Responses to previous posts may be required for some discussion boards; additional responses are up to the students, but really add to the life of the class, so please get into the habit of doing this. I may not grade every discussion forum, but I will grade several and average your work for the semester up to 100 points or 10% of your final grade for this course.

Knowing the material:

Exams on Brightspace

We will have four approximately one hour to 1½ hour long Unit Exams on the glossary terms, key authors and key concepts found in each unit. Each exam will be worth from 100 to 125 points. All of them will be taken online on Brightspace.

[Let the instructor know if you have any disabilities that may affect your taking of an exam. Be sure to follow the instructions for the ADA requirements -- MCC's requirements and processes may be different than you've experienced at other schools.]

The last Unit Exam will also be the final exam and may be worth additional points. Although it will focus on the last unit, this last exam will also include some cumulative material, as final exams should. For some exams, I may have a "take home" part that can be completed and emailed back to me.

The sum of these four exams will be totaled to equal 400 points or 40% of your final grade for this course. These tests may include multiple choice, fill in the blank, true/false and matching questions, and some short essays. Be sure to allow time for these exams, because once you start an exam, you can't quit, but must complete it. Technical problems have sometimes affected students. Be sure to update your web browser. Also review the technical advice found in the "technical help" sections of our class Brightspace® page and the materials available through the information technology people at MCC.

Applying and extending the material:

"Doing Sociology" Short Research Papers:

During this course you will have three opportunities to imitate a sociologist and do research. The details of these papers will be available under the "Assignments" section of our Brightspace® website (with links from the appropriate units). The first one involves interviewing someone who grew up in a different time period or culture than you; a second will investigate with a field observation how people really do behave in groups; and the third one involves analyzing at least two places using census data. As you may notice (and by the end of the course I hope you start noticing all sorts of things), these projects start with one person, expand to groups of people, then categories of people, and finally populations – thus you get a taste of researching all of the social world with some of the major methods used.

- Doing Sociology 1 (interview on cultural change).
- Doing Sociology 2 (field observation of group behavior or Garfinkle Experiment)
- Doing Sociology 3 (comparative studies using census data) due right before the last week of classes.

Although these projects may seem a lot right now, they really are a positive highlight of the course for most students. Get started on these quickly -- for they are not papers that can be written overnight. The first one is an interview on cultural change, and it will take time to arrange this interview and then write your report. The following two projects will also take preparation time (but no library research). These reports will be due at 11:59 PM on the dates posted on the Brightspace calendar. Each project report will be worth 100 points or 10% of your final grade. College level writing skills are appropriate for these papers, for I will be taking points off for spelling, grammar and punctuation mistakes. Utilize the MCC Academic Support and Tutoring services (<https://www.mclennan.edu/academic-support-and-tutoring/>) either online or face-to-face as appropriate, as well as your word processor's spell checker.

Each report should be completed with a word processor, saved (keeping a copy for yourself in case the one you give to me gets lost in cyberspace), and then posted in Brightspace at the appropriate spot. Remember that I can only open MS Word (".doc" or ".docx") or Rich

Text Format (".rtf") documents. If you send me any others (such as Apple "pages", I will not be able to grade them and you will not get any credit for the assignment. Get these papers in on time, because the late penalties severely hurt! See the late work policy below.

Special Assignments

MCC draws upon a diverse population of students. Upon the Instructor's wisdom, he may determine that some students may benefit from additional assignments or services and will require such assignments with various MCC services.

To summarize, the course grade is composed of the following:

Class Participation (including discussion boards)	10%
Quizzes on Brightspace	20
"Doing Sociology" very short active "research" papers (3@100 pts. each)	30
Unit Exams and Final Exam (4 @ 100 points each)	40
TOTAL	100%

Student Behavioral Expectations and Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to follow the General Conduct Policy in the Highlander Guide, and to maintain classroom decorum that includes respect for other students and the instructor, prompt and regular attendance, and an attitude that seeks to take full advantage of this opportunity for education.

Respect for all

Every person comes from a different background and each is unique and special. Do respect other people and treat them as you would like to be treated. Some of us have physical or other biologically based differences that society has labeled "disabilities". America today seeks to provide "equality for all" which means sometimes we need to provide special accommodations to some. If you think you deserve some sort of accommodation, consult MCC's Accommodation Services office: <https://www.mclennan.edu/disability/>.

If you feel you are being unfairly treated by anyone at MCC for any reason, please check out our non-discrimination policies: <https://www.mclennan.edu/titleix/non-discrimination.html>

Dr. Lockhart's hearing disability: I've been hearing impaired since early childhood and I've learned to read lips and other clues to help me to understand people. If I ask you to repeat something or if I misinterpret what you say, please don't be embarrassed, for it is my hearing problem, not yours. Please say it again, perhaps a little more slowly and so I can see your lips. Don't shout, for when people shout they exaggerate their lips which makes things worse. In over ten years of teaching, this impairment has not caused any undue problem for me or for any student. I now have a cochlear implant and although it has helped me in some ways I am still adjusting to this device. Therefore, it is best to email me, rather than call. If you do leave a phone message, be sure to speak slowly and clearly and leave a local phone number. (I am not normally able to return long distance phone calls.) If you need to phone, I can talk on the phone but sometimes I have difficulty understanding people, particularly recorded phone messages. If you have to leave a phone message, please speak slowly and distinctly, particularly when giving names and phone numbers.

Class Discussion Ground Rules

Social and cultural issues are inevitably controversial. To provide full discussion of social problems, the following ground rules will be followed.

- 1) It has been said that "it takes a lot of work to get to disagreement." To accurately disagree with someone, you need to understand where you agree – including facts, values and feelings -- so that where and how you disagree is clear. The name calling seen on TV and social media does not create clear disagreement; instead there is more smoke and heat than light being generated.
- 2) Students (and the teacher) will behave respectfully toward each other; there will be no insults or put-downs. Although we can strongly disagree with people's ideas or values, people themselves should not be attacked. Let us focus on the facts of the matter and clarify the facts and values involved.

- 3) Each student will be given room to voice her or his own opinion. The teacher may ask each person to contribute at least one thought to each discussion.
- 4) Additional ground rules may be developed and enforced by the instructor.

Instructor's Academic Integrity Statement

Plagiarism and cheating: Double Danger!

Plagiarism is the unacknowledged borrowing of information, wording, organization, or ideas. Whether the original source is public (e.g., a newspaper, book, journal article, the Web) or private (e.g., a classmate's paper), you need to indicate your indebtedness to it. Where you repeat the exact language of your source, you must treat the borrowed material as a quotation and place it within quotation marks. However, by merely changing a few words or the word order or by paraphrasing, you do NOT avoid plagiarism; you should still credit your source.

In the case of plagiarism or cheating, the instructor has the right to give the student a "zero" for the assignment and an additional zero for an equivalent assignment or exam. So, instead of sneaking by, you may get double trouble! He may also report your behavior to the appropriate offices of MCC as a violation of the Student code of conduct.

ChatGPT and other forms of Artificial Intelligence:

"The unauthorized use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) for classwork can be seen as violation of the College's General Student Conduct policy." The only use of AI that is acceptable in this course is the use of a spell and grammar checker for reviewing your papers before you turn them in. All other uses will be considered plagiarism and dealt with appropriately. Please use spell and grammar checkers to make your papers more readable and up to college writing standards, but be sure to check the results because these checkers still make many mistakes including confusing "there", "their" and "they're". You can also use human assistance (such as MCC Tutors and others) to help you with your writing mechanics, but the thoughts and analysis should all be yours.

Late Work and Make Up Work Policies:

Part of the socialization of this course is to teach you to be a punctual worker. Thus late work will be severely penalized, just as it would at a job. So, plan ahead. Complete and submit your work on Brightspace before the last minute, just in case the computer crashes, the internet won't work, etc. Work is always accepted early! Be sure to keep track of deadlines by using the calendar on Brightspace. Each paper turned in late will be penalized 5% of its potential value for each business day it is late. Thus if it is worth 100 points and is due on Monday and you submit it on Wednesday (two days late), you will be penalized 10% (2 x 5%) – that is 10 points -- before I even look at it. 10% is a full letter grade lower – from a B+ to a C+. So, get your work in on time!

You are responsible for making sure all assignments get to me. On Brightspace in the Assignments area, you will see a notification in the completion column for each assignment you submit. If it states "not submitted" you need to resubmit it. Grading is not immediate, but in that same place you should see if the assignment has been graded and, if so, you'll see how to access your grade, the grading rubric and any comments I may have made.

Make Up Exams: Make-up tests will be granted only by the instructor's discretion and will be subject to the same late penalty, which means that you will lose 20 points on a 100-point test just for taking it 2 days late. If you know ahead of time that you will not be able to take an exam during the testing period due to an excuse that the instructor accepts, you may be able to make prior arrangements with the instructor to take the exam without the late penalty.

ACADEMIC RESOURCES/POLICIES

Accommodations/ADA Statement:

Any student who is a qualified individual with a disability may request reasonable accommodations to assist with providing equal access to educational opportunities. Students should contact the Accommodations Coordinator as soon as possible to provide documentation and make necessary arrangements. Once that process is completed, appropriate verification will be provided to the student and instructor. Please note that instructors are not required to provide classroom accommodations to students until appropriate verification has been provided by the Accommodations Coordinator. For additional information, please visit www.mclennan.edu/disability

Students with questions or who require assistance with disabilities involving physical, classroom, or testing accommodations should contact:

disabilities@mclennan.edu (254)299-8122
Room 319, Student Services Center

Title IX:

We care about your safety, and value an environment where students and instructors can successfully teach and learn together. If you or someone you know experiences unwelcomed behavior, we are here to help. Individuals who would like to report an incident of sexual misconduct are encouraged to immediately contact the Title IX Coordinator at titleix@mclennan.edu or by calling, Dr. Claudette Jackson, (Accommodations/Title IX) at (254) 299-8465. MCC employees are mandatory reporters and must report incidents immediately to the Title IX Coordinator. Individuals may also contact the MCC Police Department at (254) 299-8911 or the MCC Student Counseling Center at (254) 299-8210. The MCC Student Counseling Center is a confidential resource for students. Any student may report sexual harassment anonymously by visiting <http://www.lighthouse-services.com/mclennan/>

Additionally, Title IX provides rights and protections for pregnant and newly parenting students. Go to McLennan's Title IX webpage at www.mclennan.edu/titleix/. It contains more information about definitions, reporting, confidentiality, resources, and what to do if you or someone you know is a victim of sexual misconduct, gender-based violence or the crimes of rape, acquaintance rape, sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, dating violence, or domestic violence.

Student Support/Resources:

MCC provides a variety of services to support student success in the classroom and in your academic pursuits to include counseling, tutors, technology help desk, advising, financial aid, etc. A listing of these and the many other services available to our students is available at <http://www.mclennan.edu/campus-resource-guide/>

Academic Support and Tutoring is here to help students with all their course-related needs. Specializing in one-on-one tutoring, developing study skills, and effectively writing essays. Academic Support and Tutoring can be found in the Library and main floor of the Learning Commons. This service is available to students in person or through Zoom. You can contact the Academic Support and Tutoring team via Zoom or email (ast@mclennan.edu) by going to our website (<https://www.mclennan.edu/academic-support-and-tutoring/>)

College personnel recognize that food, housing, and transportation are essential for student success. If you are having trouble securing these resources or want to explore strategies for balancing life and school, we encourage you to contact either MCC CREW – Campus Resources Education Web by calling (254) 299-8561 or by emailing crew@mclennan.edu or a Success Coach by calling (254) 299-8226 or emailing success@mclennan.edu.

The CREW, Success Coaches, and Paulanne's Pantry are all located on the second floor of the Student Services building in Success Coaching Services.

MCC Foundation Emergency Grant Fund:

Unanticipated expenses, such as car repairs, medical bills, housing, or job loss can affect us all. Should an unexpected expense arise, the MCC Foundation has an emergency grant fund that may be able to assist you. Please go to <https://www.mclennan.edu/foundation/scholarships-and-resources/emergencygrant.html> to find out more about the emergency grant. The application can be found at https://www.mclennan.edu/foundation/docs/Emergency_Grant_Application.pdf

MCC Academic Integrity Statement:

Please view our Academic integrity statement for more information about academic integrity, dishonesty, and cheating. The unauthorized use of artificial intelligence (AI) for classwork can be a violation of the College's General Conduct Policy. Whether AI is authorized in a course and the parameters in which AI can be used in a course will be outlined by each instructor.

Minimum System Requirements to Utilize MCC's D2L|Brightspace:

Go to <https://www.mclennan.edu/center-for-teaching-and-learning/Faculty-and-Staff-Commons/requirements.html> for information on the minimum system requirements needed to reliably access your courses in MCC's D2L|Brightspace learning management system.

Minimum Technical Skills:

Students should have basic computer skills, knowledge of word processing software, and a basic understanding of how to use search engines and common web browsers.

Backup Plan for Technology:

In the event MCC's technology systems are down, you will be notified via your MCC student email address. Please note that all assignments and activities will be due on the date specified in the Instructor Plan, unless otherwise noted by the instructor.

Email Policy:

McLennan Community College would like to remind you of the policy (<http://www.mclennan.edu/employees/policy-manual/docs/E-XXXI-B.pdf>) regarding college email. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use their McLennan email addresses when conducting college business.

A student's McLennan email address is the preferred email address that college employees should use for official college information or business. Students are expected to read and, if needed, respond in a timely manner to college emails. For more information about your student email account, go to www.mclennan.edu/studentemail.

Instructional Uses of Email:

Faculty members can determine classroom use of email or electronic communications. Faculty should expect and encourage students to check the college email on a regular basis. Faculty should inform students in the course syllabus if another communication method is to be used and of any special or unusual expectations for electronic communications.

If a faculty member prefers not to communicate by email with their students, it should be reflected in the course syllabus and information should be provided for the preferred form of communication.

Email on Mobile Devices:

The College recommends that you set up your mobile device to receive McLennan emails. If you need assistance with set-up, you may email Helpdesk@mclennan.edu for help.

You can find help on the McLennan website about connecting your McLennan email account to your mobile device:

- Email Setup for iPhones and iPads
- Email Setup for Androids

Forwarding Emails:

You may forward emails that come to your McLennan address to alternate email addresses; however, the College will not be held responsible for emails forwarded to an alternate address that may be lost or placed in junk or spam filters.

For more helpful information about technology at MCC, go to MCC's Tech Support or email helpdesk@mclennan.edu.
