NOTE: This is a 2-week On-Line course.

Course Description:

Analyzes the economy as a whole including measurement and determination of aggregate demand and aggregate supply, national income, inflation, and unemployment. Other topics include international trade, economic growth, business cycles, fiscal policy and monetary policy.

Prerequisites and/or Corequisites:

Must have passed the TSI Assessment or be concurrently enrolled in INRW 0402.

Course Notes and Instructor Recommendations:

Orientation:

Not all sections of the Syllabus will interest all readers, nor will are they all needed for the successful completion of this class, but some are. Why does the Syllabus contain sections that are not necessary? Some are required by my employer, and I like making my employer happy. Others are required by the state, and while I am not as thrilled about these sections, they are included too. All sections will be of value to some students.

When you have questions about the course or its procedures, the Syllabus should be the first place you look for answers. While I am happy to answer questions, asking me takes more time than seeking answers in the Syllabus. I do prioritize email. Questions that can be answered easily by referring to the Syllabus have a low priority. If you don't understand something in the Syllabus, start your email with something like, "I don't understand what the Syllabus means when you write..." This will give your email higher priority and help me improve my Syllabus.

Required Text & Materials:

You will need MyEconLab and eText for Acemoglu Macroeconomics. The materials are integrated into Brightspace. The text is

Title: Macroeconomics

Author: Acemoglu, Laibson, and List

Edition: Macroeconomics 2nd or 3rd Edition

Publisher: Pearson

Start Now:

Read the Syllabus. MyEconLab and the e-text should be included in the tuition for the course. Otherwise, you need to purchase MyEconLab with the etext. Print a copy of the MyEconLab

Registration Instructions. On the Content page of Brightspace, follow any link to MyEconLab and purchase/register. DO NOT WAIT! Enter the class webpage; click on Content. The first time you select one of these links, review and accept the Pearson 'End User License Agreement' and 'Privacy Policy'. The online materials will then load automatically. Email me if you have questions.

The MyEconLab website follows the schedule set in the Syllabus but I have set the exams and the MyEconLab assignments to allow late completion without penalty, and to allow multiple attempts. Complete the Pretest linked to the Assessment page of Brightspace. Complete the Get Started Homework and Quiz on MyEconLab.

If you are having a problem with this course at any time, please email me at bjohnson@mclennan.edu. In most cases, I will attempt to answer your question within 24 hours, usually far quicker than that. You can also contact me at 254-299-8699, but I am rarely in the office to answer my phone.

Email Policy:

McLennan Community College would like to remind you of the policy (<http://www.mclennan.edu/employees/policy-manual/docs/E-XXXI-B.pdf>) regarding college email. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use their McLennan email addresses when conducting college business.

Methods of Teaching and Learning:

We will use Acemoglu, Laibson and List's, "Principles of Macroeconomics: Third Edition" as our textbook. We will also use the Pearson product, MyEconLab. Print a copy of the MyEconLab Registration Instructions on the Content page of Brightspace, enter the class webpage and register. The first page you see is the announcements. On the right, you will see a link that reads "Pearson My Lab and Mastering." Click on it. Next, click on the link that reads, Open MyLab & Mastering. Follow the rest of the instructions. Email me if you have questions.

Class Notes:

My class notes and a few videos of lectures are available on the Content page of Brightspace (which is found on the Navigation Bar) as an aid, but you are not required to use them. The best notes are written in Mathematica, saved in a cdf format, and are interactive. To be able to use them, you must own a copy of Mathematic or download a free program, cdf player which is similar to Adobe reader. Follow the link and instructions on the Links and Downloads page (Content [from the Navigation Bar]>Links and Downloads [from the Table of Contents on the Content page]) of Brightspace or google, "cdf player," follow the link and then follow the instructions. This process should last less than 10 minutes. Contact me if you have questions.

Course Outline or Schedule:

The due dates are also listed at the MyEconLab website. Assignments are subject to change. There are three due dates. The recommended due date (Rec Date), intermediate due date (Inter Date), and the final due date (Final Date). Different due dates endow students with flexibility to fit the class assignments into their individual schedules. This will cause some confusion, but I believe that additional flexibility is a good tradeoff for the additional confusion.

Course Grading Information:

Grades with curves (if any) are recorded in Brightspace. Only raw scores are reported in Pearson.

Homework Assignments and Quizzes:

The MyEconLab graded problem sets are a valuable tool in learning the economics presented in this class. The problem sets are closely related to the Acemoglu, Laibson and List text. Besides being directly responsible for 20% of your grade, these problem sets indirectly affect your grades on exams. I have found that every fifteen questions answered correctly improves exam scores by approximately one letter grade.

For grading purposes, there are two types of MyEconLab assignments. Each chapter has two types of required assignments from the MyEconLab, homeworks and quizzes. Your grades are recorded as the decimal (rather than percentage) of questions answered correctly. The highest grade possible is a 1, which corresponds to 100%.

In addition to the required assignments, MyEconLab generates a study plan based on the questions that you missed on the homework and quiz assignments. Although not required, the study plan will help you prepare for exams.

The MyEconLab assignments can be completed by the final due date without penalty of lost points. There is a cost to being late. You have less time to complete assignments that are currently due.

Exams:

Exams will be found in MyEconLab. Students can retake all exams four times, including the final. Exams are graded on a curve. After the curve has been added, the average grade will be approximately 74%.

Testing Procedures

The midterm exams will be given online in MyEconLab. The average student needs .8 seconds to answer a question. I will give you at least 1.4 minutes. Do not ask for additional time unless you have a documented disability which I will accommodate.

I will evaluate your performance in class using the following metric.

Testing Tool	Percent of Grade
MyEconLab homeworks and quizzes	20%
Midterms (4 @ 15% each)	60%
Final exam	20%

The class grading scale is as follows

A 90% and above
 B 80-89%
 C 70-79%
 D 60-69%
 F Below 60%

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:

Students can retake any and all exams for full credit. They can retake an exam more than once but must contact me so that I can reset the exam.

I will take attendance once a week. Attendance is based on participation. You can fall behind, but you need to do something every week even if it is only beginning an assignment.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to maintain classroom decorum that includes respect for other students and the instructor, prompt and regular attendance, and an attitude that seeks to take full advantage of the education opportunity.”
