Methods of Teaching and Learning:

We will cover a chapter in the ebook/textbook and certain artists on the website Art21. Master the key events and terms for each unit by working through the deck of Terminology Flashcards. Memorize what the great works of art look like and master key information by working through the deck of Image Flashcards. That includes chapter overview, PowerPoints, tests, assignments and the extra credit discussion questions.

This course requires four basic kinds of student participation:

1. Readings from the ebook/textbook.
2. Viewing of artists' profiles on the website Art 21.
3. Completion of exams. 60%
4. Participation in Discussion Board Questions. 40%

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

Develop a language in the Visual Arts that include; Visual Elements, Principles of Design, Form, Style, and Content. Be able to identify the materials and methods used to create works of art. Identify and describe important periods and styles of art and how they change from culture to culture. Discuss the importance of artistic expression and differentiate between art forms. Be able to develop a personal aesthetic response to a work of art

Course Outline and Schedule

Unit Exams

This course is designed for the student to work at their own pace reading the materials and taking the exams. As the student completes one unit they are allowed to go to the next unit.

The Discussion board questions are due as follows:

Discussion #1 and #6 will be span only 2 days each. These require 1 post each.

Discussion #2, #3, #4, and #5 span 1 week each. These require 3 posts total on 3 different days. That is 3 days during a 7 day period that you need to post. If you post more than this it will only help your grade.

DBQ 1--07/10--07/11

DBQ 2--07/12--07/18

DBQ 3--07/19--07/25

DBQ 4--07/26--08/01

DBQ5--08/02--08/08

DBQ 6--08/09--08/10

Discussion Board questions will open on the dates above and not be available after closing date. Please read instructions and remember that you need a minimum of 3 posts total spread out over 3 different days. Any posts over 3 will just help your grade.

Course Grading Information:

Course Grading

Exams-60 %

There will be an exam in each unit. You will have 1 attempt for each exam. Exam scores will be averaged together for your exam score. There are 15 exams. Exams will have 10 questions and have a 30 minute time limit.

Discussion Board Questions—40%

There will be 6 Discussion board questions.

Discussion #1 and #6 will be span only 2 days each. These require 1 post each.

Discussion #2, #3, #4, and #5 span 1 week each. These require 3 posts on 3 different days. That is 3 days during a 7 day period that you need to post.

Your initial post should be about a paragraph long (or 5-10 sentences). Discussion board posts should always be written at college level which means using college vocabulary, proper grammar with correct capitalization and punctuation. Avoid using "text speak", acronyms (like ROFL) or emotions. Reply to at least two class mates posts with thoughtful and considerate posts. Your replies should be a couple sentences to a paragraph long. Your reply posts should be made before the end of the second week in the discussion period.

Discussion Forum Grade Weighting

A maximum of 100 participation points can be earned per each discussion forum. How points are earned is detailed in the table below.

	Quantitative points	Qualitative points
3 or more posts made	70	30

1 post made	40	10
--------------------	-----------	-----------

Discussion forum participation points are earned in two ways. The minimum number of 3 posts or more earn quantitative points. How well your post demonstrates to me that you have read the material, your classmates posts, and how much your post add to the discussion ultimately earns qualitative points. Discussion Board statements should be supported with examples from the assigned textbook readings or from viewings from the assigned Art21 videos. Discussions supported with concrete examples will earn more qualitative points.

In order to earn the maximum of 100 points per discussion you need to make at least 3 substantive posts, on 3 different days that improve the discussion for everyone. It is possible for a post to earn quantitative points but not earn any qualitative points. If a post is particularly weak it may actually not even earn the quantitative points. An example of a post which is so poor that it doesn't earn quantitative points would be, "I totally agree with you Sally!" -or- "Thank you for posting that John!" As the discussion occurs it will become obvious what a poor, average, and good post is. If you have questions please ask via e-mail or in the Off Topics thread. This is 40% of your Final Grade.

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:

Exams must be completed in the time allowed and there is only 1 attempt per exam. If there is some kind of tech problem the student can make up the exam. Discussion Questions must be done in the time period allowed no late work only again if there is a tech problem.

Go to <https://www.mclennan.edu/center-for-teaching-and-learning/FacultyandStaffCommons/requirements.html> for information on the minimum system requirements needed to reliably access your courses in MCC's D2L|Brightspace learning management system.

Minimum Technical Skills:

Students should have basic computer skills, knowledge of word processing software, and a basic understanding of how to use search engines and common web browsers.

Backup Plan for Technology:

In the event MCC's technology systems are down, you will be notified via your MCC student email address. Please note that all assignments and activities will be due on the date specified in the Instructor Plan, unless otherwise noted by the instructor.

Email Policy:

McLennan Community College would like to remind you of the policy (<http://www.mclennan.edu/employees/policy-manual/docs/E-XXXI-B.pdf>) regarding college email. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use their McLennan email addresses when conducting college business.

A student's McLennan email address is the preferred email address that college employees should use for official college information or business. Students are expected to read and, if needed, respond in a timely manner to college emails. For more information about your student email account, go to www.mclennan.edu/studentemail.

Instructional Uses of Email:

Faculty members can determine classroom use of email or electronic communications. Faculty should expect and encourage students to check the college email on a regular basis. Faculty should inform students in the course syllabus if another communication method is to be used and of any special or unusual expectations for electronic communications.

If a faculty member prefers not to communicate by email with their students, it should be reflected in the course syllabus and information should be provided for the preferred form of communication.

Email on Mobile Devices:

The College recommends that you set up your mobile device to receive McLennan emails. If you need assistance with set-up, you may email Helpdesk@mclennan.edu for help.

You can find help on the McLennan website about connecting your McLennan email account to your mobile device:

- Email Setup for iPhones and iPads
- Email Setup for Androids

Forwarding Emails:

You may forward emails that come to your McLennan address to alternate email addresses; however, the College will not be held responsible for emails forwarded to an alternate address that may be lost or placed in junk or spam filters.

For more helpful information about technology at MCC, go to MCC's Tech Support Cheat Sheet or email helpdesk@mclennan.edu.
