Methods of Teaching and Learning:

MyMathLab is the online component that will house the course information. Homework will be done online in this environment. Lecture notes, reference materials and videos are available there as well.

- Communications: Students participate in assignments involving topics related to finite math or other mathematics with an emphasis on business and social science application problems. They then share their results with their instructor and/or colleagues in class via written, oral, and visual methods.

- Critical Thinking: Critical thinking is the essence of all mathematical studies. Through inductive and deductive reasoning, students explore problems using the logical process of inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis.
- Empirical and Quantitative Skills: Students work on various mathematical problem solving skills throughout the course. The course focuses on the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts as presented in application problems and /or problem skill sets in which students demonstrate their ability to reach informed conclusions using mathematical processes.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

- Apply calculus to solve business, economics, and social sciences problems.
- Apply appropriate differentiation techniques to obtain derivatives of various functions, including logarithmic and exponential functions.
- Solve application problems involving implicit differentiation and related rates.
- Solve optimization problems with emphasis on business and social sciences applications.
- Determine appropriate technique(s) of integration.
- Integrate functions using the method of integration by parts or substitution, as appropriate.
- Solve business, economics, and social sciences applications problems using integration techniques.

Course Outline or Schedule: This is only a suggested schedule to keep you on pace. See below regarding due dates for assignments.

This course will use a variety of internal and external assessments. A faculty developed comprehensive final exam will assess the core objectives of critical thinking and empirical/quantitative analysis. These core objectives will also be assessed using parts of a standardized test (CAAP). A faculty designed rubric will be used to assess communication skills as well. Review of such items such as GPA, retention levels, and success in following course may be used to evaluate the effectiveness of student learning.

Course Grading Information:

Homework: There is an online homework assignment for each section that is covered during the semester. All of the homework assignments need to be completed by 11:59pm on August 10th. They will be your main source of practice for the quizzes. You can work on a homework assignment as many times as you want to improve your grade up until the due date. Your homework average will count 20% of your final grade.

Chapter Quizzes: There will be online quizzes over most of the chapters covered in this course. Unlike the homework, the quizzes can only be attempted once (see make-up section below), and they are timed. You will have 120 minutes (the same amount of time you would get in a face-to-face course) to complete each quiz once you start. There is no way to save your progress and return at a later time to finish. You must make sure that when you start a quiz you have enough time to complete it. Also make sure that when you are done you hit the “Submit Test” button or else it may not record your grade, and you will not be permitted to access it again. Also if you accidentally close the quiz window or click a link that takes you away from the quiz, you will be locked out of the quiz and not be permitted to access it again. The quizzes will look exactly like the homework problems for the sections covered. The quizzes must be completed by 11:59pm on August 10th. Each quiz will count 20% of your final grade.

Final Exam: There will be a comprehensive final exam. It will be done online and will also be timed. You will have 120 minutes to complete the final exam. The problems on the test will look like the homework and quiz problems from the previous chapters. The final exam will be due by 11:59pm on August 10th. It will count as 20% of your final grade.

You can check your grades using the “Gradebook” button on the left side of the MathLab component. The standard grading scale applies:

90 – 100 = A    80 – 89 = B    70 – 79 = C    60 – 69 = D    59 and lower = F

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:

Due dates are set for all homework, quizzes, and tests. If students do not make the deadlines, those grades become zero. I plan on dropping a couple of the lowest homework grades at the end of the semester. Each student will be allowed one make-up quiz for the semester in case you accidentally get locked out or you just make a low score. Your make-up assignment will need to be completed by 11:59pm on August 10th. It is your responsibility to contact me when you've decided which quiz you would like to make up. Instructor has the right to adapt under special circumstances.

Attendance will be monitored each week. If you are counted absent 2 times before August 1st (the last day to drop the course) you will be automatically dropped from the course. If you already have 6 drops on your record you will have to stay enrolled and earn a grade at the end of the semester. To be counted as present during a week (a week begins on Monday and ends Sunday night at 11:59pm) you must submit work (can be as little as one problem) on at least one assignment in MyMathLab.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Cheating will not be tolerated in class. Having someone else do your online homework assignments and tests are both violations of the academic integrity policy and either may result in failing grades and/or being dropped from the class. Infractions such as these will be reported to the administration for tracking and possible college action. At any time I may ask you to prove that you have been doing the work in this course.
