Methods of Teaching and Learning:
The following methods for teaching and learning will be used: personalized and individualized approach for each student depending on their concurrent college level math class.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:
Upon successful completion of this course, students will: Be able to successfully complete the objectives of the college math course that this supports.

Course Attendance/Participation Guidelines:
If a student is not in attendance in accordance with the policies/guidelines of the class as outlined in the course syllabus as of the course census date, faculty are required to drop students from their class roster prior to certifying the respective class roster. A student's financial aid will be re-evaluated accordingly and the student will only receive funding for those courses attended as of the course census date.

Before the 60% point of the semester, a student who is absent for 25% or more of a face-to-face or blended course or who misses 25% or more of assigned work for an online course will be withdrawn from the course with a grade of W. A student may also request to be withdrawn with a grade of W before the 60% point of the semester. After the 60% point of the semester, the student may request to be withdrawn if the student is passing, or be assigned the final grade earned at the end of the semester after grades have been updated to reflect missing work.

Course Outline or Schedule:
Read the available information in Brightspace or contact your Math Instructor.
NCBM scheduling will be customized to meet the student's remediation needs and will be a collaborative design to accommodate the schedules of the instructor and student.

Course Grading Information:
To receive credit for NCBM 0100, students must demonstrate mastery on competencies defined in their college math course.

The grade for the course is Credit or Non-credit and will be given to each student on the last class meeting to allow the instructor to help advise the student based on either the successful completion of the NCBM and the concurrent college math course. Students who do not earn a passing grade in their college level math course will not receive credit for the course. Grades will be CR-Credit (Pass), W (Withdrawal), or NC (Non-Completion). If the student does not earn credit, they must then follow the guidelines for enrollment.

Late Work, Attendance, and Make Up Work Policies:
Communication between the student and NCBM instructor is critical. Email communication may be acceptable, but the student must respond as requested by the instructor. Failure to do so may result in being dropped from NCBM and that would initiate being dropped from the college level class.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to maintain classroom decorum that includes respect for other students and the instructor, prompt and regular attendance, and an attitude that seeks to take full advantage of the education opportunity. Students are expected to come to the math class associated with this Noncourse supplement prepared and with supplies necessary to participate actively in each class meeting.

Email Policy:
McLennan Community College would like to remind you of the policy (http://www.mclennan.edu/employees/policy-manual/docs/E-XXXI-B.pdf) regarding college email. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to use their McLennan email addresses when conducting college business.

A student's McLennan email address is the preferred email address that college employees should use for official college information or business. Students are expected to read and, if needed, respond in a timely manner to college emails. For more information about your student email account, go to www.mclennan.edu/studentemail.

Instructional Uses of Email:
Faculty members can determine classroom use of email or electronic communications. Faculty should expect and encourage students to check the college email on a regular basis. Faculty should inform students in the course syllabus if another communication method is to be used and of any special or unusual expectations for electronic communications.

If a faculty member prefers not to communicate by email with their students, it should be reflected in the course syllabus and information should be provided for the preferred form of communication.

Email on Mobile Devices:

The College recommends that you set up your mobile device to receive McLennan emails. If you need assistance with set-up, you may email Helpdesk@mclennan.edu for help.

You can find help on the McLennan website about connecting your McLennan email account to your mobile device:

- Email Setup for iPhones and iPads
- Email Setup for Androids

Forwarding Emails:

You may forward emails that come to your McLennan address to alternate email addresses; however, the College will not be held responsible for emails forwarded to an alternate address that may be lost or placed in junk or spam filters.

For more helpful information about technology at MCC, go to MCC's Tech Support or email helpdesk@mclennan.edu.
