Edition: Enhanced 18th Edition

Publisher: Cengage

ISBN: 979-8-214-14622-5

MCC Bookstore Website: <http://www.mclennan.edu/bookstore/>

Methods of Teaching and Learning:

This course will rely primarily on the assigned text. However, other related materials may be used to supplement the approved course material. Generally speaking, class time will be divided between class discussion and course lecture. The discussions will include not only prescribed readings, but outside current events happening at the local, state, and federal levels, and other appropriate professional published materials, as well. Exams, quizzes, and assigned projects may be used to assess learning and comprehension. Furthermore, participation in class discussions is a critical part of the classroom experience. Therefore, final grades will incorporate points for class participation.

Course Objectives and/or Competencies:

This course will focus on the Federal Constitution. The course will involve the analysis of governmental institutions, political behavior, civic engagement, and their political and philosophical foundations. Ultimately, this course is designed to help students develop an adequate comprehension of the following:

- Critical Thinking Skills (CT): “to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information.”
- Communication Skills (COMM): “to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication.”
- Social Responsibility (SR): “to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities.”

- Personal Responsibility (PR): “to include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making.”

Course Attendance/Participation Guidelines:

If a student is not in attendance in accordance with the policies/guidelines of the class as outlined in the course syllabus as of the course census date, faculty are required to drop students from their class roster prior to certifying the respective class roster. A student’s financial aid will be re-evaluated accordingly and the student will only receive funding for those courses attended as of the course census date.

Before the 60% point of the semester, a student who is absent for 25% or more of a face-to-face or blended course or who miss 25% or more of assigned work for an online course will be withdrawn from the course with a grade of W. A student may also request to be withdrawn with a grade of W before the 60% point of the semester. After the 60% point of the semester, the student may request to be withdrawn if the student is passing, or be assigned the final grade earned at the end of the semester after grades have been updated to reflect missing work.

Course Outline or Schedule:

This is a fully online course and students are expected to stay on pace and complete the assigned readings by Friday during the week in which they are assigned. Excluding the Introduction Discussion Board, discussion boards covering specified chapters will be assigned throughout the semester, but will only cover 5 out of the 8 weeks. Therefore, a discussion board covering chapter material will not occur every week. Typically, I will open the discussion board on Wednesday and it will close on Sunday night. The discussion questions will cover readings assigned for the current week. For example, the Week 2 discussion board will open on Wednesday of Week 2 and will cover reading assignments scheduled for Week 2 that should be read by Friday of Week 2. This will allow students the opportunity to discuss specific aspects of the readings to gain perspective on the content covered. In addition to discussion boards, students will be required to complete all exams, quizzes, and other assignments in accordance with the established due date. If there’s a change in schedule for any reason, students will be notified through Brightspace Announcements and/or e-mail.

Late Work and Make Up Work Policies:

- Syllabus Scavenger Hunt

This assignment is to help you learn more about critical information that I'm frequently asked throughout the semester. Therefore, it is important that you complete this assignment early in the course.

There will not be any allowances for make up work with regard to not completing the Syllabus Scavenger Hunt assignment.

- Discussion Boards

Discussion boards are peer to peer assignments that are meant to help students understand the course material from the experiences or scholarly interpretation of the course material. These assignments are time and chapter sensitive and, therefore, must be completed by the due date.

There will not be any allowances for make up work with regard to missed discussion board assignments.

- Quizzes

Quizzes must be taken on the date the quiz is scheduled. Students will receive a zero for quizzes not taken at the appropriate time, unless an exception to extend the quiz date is approved. If an exception is approved, make up for the missed quiz must be completed on the agreed upon retake date, but no later than 5 calendar days after the original quiz date. Unless an exception is granted to extend a due date, students will receive the following deductions for late submission of a quiz:

1 – 3 calendar days late – 20% reduction in earned score.

All quizzes that are not completed during the timeframe listed above will not be graded and the student will receive a zero for the quiz.

- Exams and Assignment

Students will be required to take exams as scheduled. If circumstances prevent you from completing an exam on time, the situation must be properly documented and a request for a due

Between 4 and 7 calendar days late – 50% reduction in earned score.

All exams or assignments not completed during the timeframe listed above will result in a zero for the exam.

- Final Exam

Unless otherwise authorized, students will be required to take the final on the scheduled final date. If circumstances prevent you from completing an exam on time, the situation must be properly documented and a request for a due date exception submitted immediately upon knowledge of the situation. Upon approval of an exception, students will have until the day before grades are due to take the final exam without penalty. Unless an exception is granted to extend a due date, students will receive the following deductions for late submission of an exam or assignment:

Between the original final date and the day before grades are due – 20% reduction in earned score.

All final exams not completed during the timeframe listed above will result in a zero for the exam.

Student Behavioral Expectations or Conduct Policy:

Students are expected to respect the opinions of others and conduct themselves appropriately, as classroom discussions may oftentimes deal with sensitive matters. Students are expected to read the assigned materials before class and be prepared to participate in all assignments where information related to the readings will be discussed.
